Citizens Chide Board on Budget, 'Gag Rule'

Meeting of S.S.F. Trustees Attracts 150

By Bob Peterson

Three items on the South San Francisco Unified School District's agenda Monday prompted a turnout of nearly 150 residents.

Although loaded for bear, the group had to go home empty handed. Instead of action, trustees let the items be aired then put them over until the next meeting.

The move irritated Trustee Lorraine Cooper. She contended the board earlier had set up the procedure where residents must submit in writing what they wanted to discuss. The reason for this, according to Mrs. Cooper, was so the trustees would be able to have answers and remarks prepared and the matter could be discussed immediately.

"Instead we say come back next time," said Mrs. Cooper, denying that she was purposely siding with the public. "I think we're wrong."

Superintendent Paul Nielsen burst out saying that if it were the wish of the board every item could immediately be an action item. He listed time and other factors for not being able to have all items as action items but said, "Whatever you want, we'll do it that way."

It all started with a statement read by Paul C. Sulinski, of 654 Ash Ave. Sulinski said his purpose was to request the board clarify its intent on policies regarding communications between district employes and members of the board.

The specific instance referred to was the recent aborted confrontation involving district principal Perseo (Pete) DePrato and Nielsen.

Sulinski asked the board to "note the implications with regard to the morale of district personnel, the quality of our ed-

Sulinski pointed out that the board reported in open meeting that no action was taken during the executive session, yet Nielsen issued a prepared statement saying, "The majority of the board concurs that he (DePrato) did break the policy and ucation process and, perhaps most importantly, the example we set for our children."

He claimed that Nielsen's interpretation that all reports or recommendations for board action from any officer or employe go through his "acts against the best interest of the taxpayers, educators and children." Sulinski said it amounts to a gag rule and probably is working in the reverse on the board.

"In typical fashion, the superintendent guided the board secret session during whic man's (DePrato) voice was heard and a verdict reached," he said.
asked that the matter he handled administratively."

"What kind of code allows this board to act on the basis of the opinion of the superintendent alone?" asked Sulinski.

After he had completed reading the statement, Board Chairman Leo Padreddii started to proceed to the next item of busi-

Man Killed When Rail Pierces Car

A San Francisco railroad engineer was killed Saturday night when a guardrail pierced his station wagon on Junipero Serra Freeway in Daly City.

Highway Patrolmen Donald J. Cappa and John L. Dowd said 160 feet of the metal railing passed through Kenneth Oliver Fike's car and spread across all three northbound lanes of the freeway.

The vehicles was towed to a Daly City auto wrecker's where the body of the 41-year-old Fike was removed.

The officers said it appeared that Fike was doing about 65 miles an hour when his car veered off of the roadway and hit the guardrail, sending wooden posts flying across the highway.

The rail, according to the patrolmen, entered the car on the left front corner just above the bumper, passed through the driver's compartment and exited on the left side of the rear window.

There was no explanation for the crash. A witness told the officers that the auto simply "drifted" off of the roadway.

A car driven by Clyde K. Olivetti, 28, of 545 Second Avenue, San Bruno, ran over the guardrail as it stretched across the road, officers said, and an auto driven by Lee S. Barksdale, 30, of San Francisco, crashed into some of the posts. Neither driver was injured, however.

The accident occurred at 10:30 p.m. near the Nineteenth Avenue turnoff.

Community Honor

Elio Fontana Tribute Saturday in Pacifica

Plans are being completed for the dinner to honor Elio A. Fontana's service to the Jefferson Union High School District Board of Trustees on October 17 at Nick's at Rockaway Beach in Pacifica. Preceding the dinner, scheduled for 8 p.m., will be a no-host cocktail hour at 7 p.m.

Tickets for the dinner, costing $8.50, may be purchased from Miss Margaret Riggs at Westmoor High.

The dinner is the second honor bestowed upon Fontana, who served on the Jefferson Union High School Board of Trustees for 18 years, five of those years as president of the Board. On July 7, the day of Fontana's resignation from the Board, approval was given to name the Jefferson High School stadium, the Elio A. Fontana Stadium. A plaque, designating the name of the stadium, will be installed by the main gate. Fontana graduated from Jefferson High in 1938 and was president of the student body in his senior year.

The entire community will honor Fontana, since, in addition to working for the J.U.H.S.D, he served as president of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce and will continue his work as chairman of the Outstanding Student Awards Committee.

The chamber honors the outstanding seniors of Westmoor and Jefferson highs at a luncheon in late spring.

Fontana, a past president of the Daly City Lion's Club, developed and chaired the Youth Art Exhibit, sponsored by the Lion's Club.

In addition to his Daly City-Colma activities, Fontana has been active in San Mateo County public affairs. He is presently a member of the San Mateo Junior College Board of Trustees and a director of the Board of San Mateo College Foundation. A former member of the San Mateo County Mental Health Advisory Board, he is still on the San Mateo County School Board Association and the Board of Directors of the San Mateo County Historical Society.

He is also a member of the Crocker Masonic Lodge F.&A.M. 454, California Consistory (Scottish Rite), San Mateo Elks and Olympic Club.

Alternatives to Violence Plan

Students for Alternatives to Violence, known as SAV, announced at a press conference Tuesday in San Francisco its pilot project in the area of business and college communications will be launched in mid November at Skyline College in San Bruno on the San Mateo Peninsula.

SAV, which was officially launched several weeks ago by interested members of the business community and students, is headed by former National President of the Law Student Division of the American Bar Association, John Long, who serves as national director. In addition, the National Board consists of Lance Rentzel, Dallas Cowboys football star, and San Bruno City Councilman and Vice Mayor Theodore Long. Long is currently serving as regional director for the pilot project.

"Our purpose for selecting Skyline for the pilot project is

S.S.F. Principals Want to Cut Junior High Graduation

Plans are to discontinue junior high school (ninth grade) graduation ceremonies in the South San Francisco Unified School District for this school year.

Trustees Monday night, however, put over action on the proposal, recommended by the district's four junior high school principals.

Only trustee Lorraine Cooper indicated she was ready to vote on the matter, apparently to delete the ceremony. Other trustees said they wanted to hold the matter over until P-TA's and parents had an opportunity to voice their opinions on the proposal.

Junior high school graduation was initiated when the district had but one intermediate school and one four-year high school. Diplomas were provided by the county for eighth grade graduates.

The district today has four junior high schools, grades seven through nine. The county no longer provides eighth grade diplomas.

Also pointed out is the fact none of the junior high schools have facilities adequate for the graduation ceremonies. For the past few years, Alta Loma has utilized the El Camino High School gymnasium. Southwood and Parkway have utilized th South San Francisco High School Auditorium.

According to the district administration, these arrangements, with the practice exercises, have unduly interfred with the junior high school instructional program, and have created hardships for the senior high schools in preparation for thei graduations."

Principals give a variety of reasons for recommending delection of the graduation.

Some feel that what started as an informal ceremony has now equaled or surpassed the elaborate exercise of the senior high schools.

Others say ninth graders are actually enrolled in the high school program and are earinng credits toward the high school diploma. They feel there is no need for a graduation ceremony to celebrate a change in location of schools, and not for the purpose of the completion of education.

It also is felt by some principals that the elaborate junior high school graduation detracts from the more meaningful senior high school ceremonies, and tends to reduce interest in the senior high school ceremony.

TOP AWARDS — Battery A, 1st Missile Battalion, 250th Artillery, California Army National Guard, located in Pacifica, was honored as the nation's best National Guard Nike Hercules Battery at ceremonies held on the Fort Scott parade ground in the Presidio of San Francisco. The unit, commanded by Capt. Michael V. Ivanoff, is one of several National Guard and active Army missile units responsible for the air defense of the San Francisco Bay Area under the direction of the 40th Artillery Brigade. It topped all other National Guard batteries in the country in operational readiness, applied knowledge of tactical doctrine, technical proficiency and maintenance management. A plaque commemorating the award to the San Mateo County battery was presented by Lt. Gen. George V. Underwood Jr., commanding general of the U.S. Army Air Defense Command, and accepted (at left) by Captain Ivanoff. Above, the battery commander, noting the award "really belongs to the men" passes the plaque around for approval of E-5 Roger Boushey (center), 1st Lt. Gerald F. Haines, the unit's executive officer. S.S.F. Dust Program Seems to Work

South San Francisco's seven-point dust control program appears to be working.

A schedule of compliance procedures submitted Monday to the city by Hank Richman, representing J. H. Snyder Company and local contractor Arthur (Buzz) Haskins, "for the most part" was acceptable.

According to Acting City Manager Larry Ross, both Director of Public Works Lou Goss and his assistant Ray Maxwell held out for specifics which required a "few amendments" of the control procedures.

Richman and Haskins both were served with notice of compliance orders last week to control the dust at construction sites by Monday and submit a procedure for continued control or else lose their grading permit.

Ross said their plan for control outlines the various areas to be watered and oiled.

"Mr. Richman agreed to water on Saturdays and Sundays regardless of whether the wind comes up," said Ross. "This shows a definite effort at cooperation." In the past trucks had simply been on standby for use in case of severe winds.

Ross explained that high winds this past Sunday prompted the city's insistence on the weekend waterings.

The acting city manager said, "The seven-point program seems to be working in that it is enticing the contractors and developers to cooperate. We expect more improvements, too."

280 Traffic Shifted to New Detour

Traffic on Interstate Route 280 (Junipero Serra Freeway) will be shifted to a new temporary detour between Westborough Boulevard and San Bruno Avenue, in San Bruno, starting today.

Southbound traffic will be shifted onto two of the four newly constructed southbound lanes between Westborough Boulevard and the existing freeway south of San Bruno Avenue.

Northbound traffic will be shifted onto the two other new freeway lanes from just south of San Bruno Avenue to Sneath Lane. Just north of Sneath Lane this traffic will be routed back to the existing road.

Since a major traffic shift of this size involves a considerable amount of time and work, traffic using this section can expect to experience some delays on the first day of the traffic shift.

S.S.F. School Split Grows

A continuing difference of opinion between South San Francisco's Unified School District Negotiating Council and the district's superintendent continued Monday.

Conrad Mezzetta council chairman, began with a blast at Supt. Paul Nielsen. He said Nielsen was purposely avoiding working with the council to find a means to settle their persistent differences.

Mezzetta cited "unpreparedness, delaying tactics and downright stubbornness" by Nielsen to include both mediation and fact finding to resolve differences.

According to Mezzetta, the teachers had proposed a two-step alternative method which included both mediation and fact-finding while the superintendent wanted only mediation or fact-finding, not both.

State law provides for fact-finding unless another method is mutually agreeable. Mezzetta said the teachers are willing to accommodate Nielsen's wishes for mediation as long as they don't have to give up the more comprehensive process of fact-finding.

The teachers do not want to give up fact finding because it is capable of resolving a broader spectrum of problems, according to Mezzetta.

Nielsen denied it was his intentionto disrupt any issue solving procedures. He said his main objection was that fact-finding was such a time consuming process. Nielsen then said he could not accept the negotiating council's "expert" testimony.

Trustee Lorraine Cooper apparently concurred with Nielsen. She made a motion, that passed unanimously, that the board obtain an "expert" opinion from the California School Boards Association before making a final decision on the matter.

Boys' Club Program Set

The Fall program for the South San Francisco Boys' Club was announced by Program Director Keen Turner recently. The club is open Tuesday through Thursday from 3-5 p.m. and 6-9 p.m.; Friday from 3-5 p.m. and 6-10 p.m.; and Saturdays, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The club is closed Sundays and Mondays. Girls, ages 10 to 17 years are invited to attend the club every Friday night.

Some new programs to be conducted this Fall include a bike club for boys 7 to 12 years; a radio club (a closed circuit station) for boys 12 to 17 years; and an athletic club. Other special interest cubs being offered again are the coin club and the stamp club. The physical education department will offer flag football, a fun fasketball league unlimited basketball league and body building.

The Arts and Crafts Department will have ceramics classes, leather working, sculpturing, plastics and woodshop. Some special events are the teen dance on October 17; little sister contest, October 24; Halloween party, October 20; and the grand prix bike race, December 11, and the Christmas party on December 23.

The Boys' Club staff will play the KYA Wonders, November 11.

Drug Scene Talk for P-TA In San Bruno

The Carl Sandburg P-TA will hold its annual association meeting on Thursday, 7:30 p.m., in the Multi-purpose Room.

After a short business meeting, President Mrs. J. McAsey will introduce Mrs. Al Kozkowski, drug-abuse chairman. Topic of the evening will be, "The Drug Scene, It's Everywhere." Mrs. Kozkowski promises a most informative evening. Guest speaker will be Peter Moore, a former drug addict, now working at Damien House in San Mateo, and Police Officer Cook, of San Bruno Police Department, will speak on the detection and recognition of drugs.

You hear parents so often say, "I can't understand these kids today." Perhaps we never will understand them, but that does not mean that we cannot try. We made the youth of today, they are our responsibility, therefore, as parents we must make every effort to close the gap between us. How? By being aware, awake and attending meetings such as this one.

Poetry Day in Daly City

The West Coast Pen Writers Club will sponsor the fourth annual National Poetry Day October 15 at 593 Lausanne Avenue, Daly City.

Barbara Jean, a local writer, will be the hostess at the open house from 12:30 to 4 p.m.

The poetry meet will include the favorite writings by Elizabeth Barrett Browning, the new contemporary poetry by rod McKuen and children's poems by Shel Silverstein.

Drug Forum in Pacifica

The second in a series of Pacifica Jaycee drug forum presentations will be held at the Muffin Mine restaurant, Eureka Square, in Pacifica at 7:30 0.m. today.

An ex-narcotics addict is to be the main speaker, a club officer announced Monday.

Although the gathering actually is the regular Jaycee meeting, community leaders have been invited. The series, it was explained, is a prelude to a community-wide drug seminar in mid November.

"LIKE THIS," says Mrs. Norma Griffith to her son Steve as they plant trees in the city park's Buckeye Grove. Mrs. Griffith spearheaded a drive to create a Redwood Remembrance Retreat in honor of California veterans of Vietnam. Dedication of the retreat will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday. (Post Photo) because of its proximity to our San Francisco headquarters office and vecause of my past working experience on that campus," Long stated. "The program will be patterned much after the recent American Assembly program wherein members of the business community will be selected to sit down on an all-day program with college students to discuss a predetermined agenda. At the conclusion of each session, a consensus will be taken as to the views expressed and the final report will be drafted. This report will then be compared with those coming from other college campuses throughout the nation, and a national conference will then be held with representatives of the various campuses meeting in a three-day program for the submission of a final draft to the Congress of the United States in May of 1971," Long went on to add.

Rentzel, who has long been interested in youth and community problems, stated that in his opinion this is one of the first really meaningful efforts to bridge the so-called communications gap. Rentzel stated, "In my opinion until such time as responsible members of the business and political community can meet with members of administration and student body on our American college campuses, we will not be able to resolve the conflicts which have resulted in so much violence and destruction in past recent years. The organization has in its early stages opened communications with college campuses in over 20 states and is extremely optimistic of presenting a major work in May of next year."

The SAV advisory board includes such prominent personalities as Glenn Campbell, Elliot Gould, Dustin Hoffman, Charles Schultz, O. J. Simpson and Dionne Warwick.

Two Jailed After Attack

Two San Francisco men were jailed on Tuesday after an 18-year-old Monterey girl complained that she had been raped on San Bruno Mountain near Brisbane.

Booked at county jail in Redwood City on a charge of forcible rape was L. J. Jones, 25. Booked for assault with intent to commit rape was Charles M. Francillette, 21.

The victim and a 17-year-old companion, also from Monterey, told sheriff's deputies they were hitch-hiking in San Francisco at 1 a.m. when they were picked up by the suspects. They said the man agreed to take them part of the way to their destination — Los Angeles. Instead, the girls related, they were driven to San Bruno Mountain.

ness, as if to let the matter pass. Roars of disapproval from the audience prompted the motion to place the item over to the next meeting.

A second prepared statement was presented by Sterling Couch, of 2219 Shannon Drive. His concern was budget preparation and a desirability to have the board direct the administration to assign priorities to budget items so the public will know what they are voting for.

According to Couch he is asking for "the first setps to decipher large numbers of statistics into meaningful and relative data so it can be clearly seen how much each program is costing the district."

Initially Nielsen balked at the request, saying it was too time consuming. "It won't take days. It will take months, and years," said Nielsen.

Joe Smith, associate superintendent of business said the request for items on a priority basis as to possible cut items is "rather simple."

He said a program budgeting system for each facet of the educational process would be a little more difficult.

The third prepared statement, read by Mrs. Cheryl Rideout, of 116 Belmont Avenue, concerned the elimination of the reading improvement program from the district.

She asked that the program be reinstated and that trustees Leo Eserini, James Christensen and Leo Padreddii reconsider their votes. Padreddii said the matter also would come up later as an action item, and indicated that if money could be found, possibly the program would be reinstated.

It was dropped because the district had Miller-Unruh funds out.

D.C. Drug Problems Discussed

An "Awareness '70" program sponsored by ten churches in Daly City will encompass the drug problem at the third of six meetings, to be held at 8 p.m., October 20, at Hope Lutheran Church.

The first two sessions — they are held each Tuesday night — approached Religion and Peace and the candidates for the November 3 election.

Other topics, through November 10, will include San Mateo County housing problems; the migrant worker and racism in the seventies.

Originally, six churches — St. Andrews, Holy Angels, Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Hope Lutheran, and Wesley Methodist — initiated the series.

A spokesman for the effort described the ecumenical endeavor as one to "promote information and interest in existing, current problems."

Teen-age ex-addicts will be on next Tuesday's narcotics program.

D.C. Police Arrest Two

Daly City police helped two San Francisco officers with the arrest of two suspects in a case involving conspiracy and assault with a deadly weapon.

Taken into custody at 237 Wyandotte, Daly City, were Rudy Jiminez, 24, of that address, and Michael Bryan, 21, of 107 Arden, South San Francisco.

Jefferson High Wants Parents

Jefferson High School has planned a freshman parents night at 8 p.m., October 21, in the Daly City school's cafeteria in hopes of obtaining greater parental interest and participation.

The gathering, to include a social hour in conjunction with the Jefferson High School Booster's Club, is for teachers and parents to get acquainted and to get an explanation of subjects and school activities.

Roller Damages SSF House

Crossword Puzzle Fan Evicted

An avid crossword puzzle fan was warned Sunday that if he appears once more at the Redwood City library he will be subject to arrest.

Policeman Herman Estes was sent to the library across from the police station Sunday afternoon when librarians reported that a 72-year-old man had a razor blade out and was about to attack a newspaper.

The librarians told Estes that the man had been in the library before and had been caught cutting crossword puzzles from the newspapers. He was warned and told not to come back.

When he appeared about 3 p.m. Sunday, librarians kept an eye on him, stopping the crossword fan just before he was about to start in with the razor blade on the latest puzzle.

County Gets Ten Bids For SSF Building

Apparently favorable bids were received last week for construction of three new courtrooms and other facilities at the county government center in South San Francisco.

All ten of the bids opened by the County Board of Supervisors were under the revised cost of $1,117,041 estimated by the Department of Building Construction and General Services.

Bids ranged from a high of $1,099,541 to a low, submitted by Stevenson Pacific Inc. of Redwood City, of $1,011,000.

The bids were referred to BCGS for review and report.

In addition to the new courtrooms, the project at the Mission Road site will include expansion of office facilities and the parking area.

Landscaping

David Biddinger, manager of services, Lee Neeley, head of the grounds staff, and Dr. Harold Sweet of the Botany Department are working together in developing the exterior of Skyline College's loop road, which surrounds the campus.

This long-range program will include the development of an interesting, scenic plants, trees, shrubs landscape.

CANDIDATES NIGHT SET

The Fairmont Subdivisions Improvement Association will sponsor a candidates' night next Wednesday, at 8 p.m., in the Fairmont Recreation Center, 649 Parkview Circle, Pacifica.

Esther M. Hall, the organization's secretary, said the planned format is for a three-person panel to question candidates.

Concert Slated For Skyline

Three concert programs and a two-day filmmakers' showcase program will be featured during the latter part of the Skyline College's Community Education schedule.

The "Intimate Concert Series" will take place in the college's Studio Theater at 8 p.m. on three Wednesday evenings of November 18, December 16, and January 13. Tickets for the three-part series is $3 and single performances $1.50.

Ecology Series

Skyline College's Community Education is presenting "Our Endangered Bay Can It Be Saved?" each Tuesday evening (7:30 p.m.) on October 27 and November 3, 10, 17, and 21 (Saturday 8 a.m.)

S.S.F. Tests Plan To Control Dust

The first test of South San Francisco's ability to control dust conditions plaguing residents is now in the works.

Two Area men, Hank Richman, representing J. B. Snyder Company, and Arthur (Buzz) Haskins, local contractor, must show to the city's satisfaction that they are complying with their grading permit, by controlling flying dirt.

At midweek Director of Public Works Lou Goss handcarried notices of compliance to Richman and Haskins, who are co-signers of a grading permit issued June 16, 1969, for West Park 3, in the city's Westborough section.

The notice to comply stipulates that "you (Richman and Haskins) have failed, neglected or otherwise refused to control the dust as provided for in said permit."

Action by the city follows recent adoption by the council of a seven-point program to alleviate dust conditions, as recommended by Acting City Manager Larry Ross.

According to Ross high winds last Tuesday prompted numerous calls to his office. He said he took the city's movie camera into the area and shot in excess of 100 feet of film on the dust being discharged into the air.

The next day the city prepared the notices of compliances. On Thursday afternoon, Ross and the city staff met with Richman, Haskins and an attorney for the Snyder firm, all reportedly upset by the wording in the order to comply.

In addition to the notices to Richman and Haskins, the city sent out a grading questionnaire to every firm that does, or has done, grading work within the city. The questionnaire includes a grading schedule and a plan for dust control.

According to Assistant City Engineer Ray Maxwell, the purpose of the questionnaire is for the city to be able to maintain a running schedule, and know what control factors are being taken in every situation.

Ross said close scrutiny will be given to grading on upper Westborough Boulevard by the L.C. Smith Company, as well as other grading work being done by GHT Homes.

Serramonte Heating Units Under Fire

Roof heating units at Daly City's two-year-old Serramonte High School are "in a deplorable condition rapidly deteriorating and will be a source of high maintenance cost," the project's architect has disclosed.

Corwin Booth & Associated Architects, after an inspection requested by the Jefferson Union High School District, set down the heater unit failures in correspondence to the contractor, Dickman Construction Co., Mountain View.

The matter is at the verbal agrument stage currently, trustees of the governing district were informed this week.

Representatives of the architectural firm found the company said, that "all of the 20 or so units on the roof are rusting internally." Rust has been found on the interior framework, and on adjustable louvres and dampers.

The architectural report stated that the external flue cover was not painted with heat resistant paint and the present paint "is peeling off." The filter frame in some of the units has "broken away from the housing," it continued, and the "wells supporting these frames have failed."

Additionally, it has been found the letter pointed out "that damper control mechanism supports have broken off at one of the units, rendering the damper control inoperative. Here again, it is a weld that has broken loose, from virbation."

Bearings have burned out on four of the roof units and "the noise from these units is terrific," and "unless the bearings are replaced immediately, we have strong feelings that the motor itself will fail," it was stated.

$2,200,000 Police Center Discussed

Proposals by three financial consultant firms have been submitted concerning South San Francisco's possibility of embarking on a $20 million city-wide improvement project.

Mayor Patrick Ahern said since the councilmen had just received the proposals they would have to have time to review them.

He and councilman Frank Bertucelli both said the number one project in the improvement package is the proposed police facility, estimated to cost $2.2 million.

The mayor added it was his intention to contact a local architect concerning whether it would be feasible or possible to expand the present facility to meet all the department's needs.

He said he intended, "If it's legal," to poll the councilmen individually about hiring the firm of Mircker Chapman and Associates for this purpose.

Mayor Ahern in the past has expressed negative reactions to the proposed $20 million package, citing the fact the city has always operated on a pay-as-you-go basis, and he does not wish to place the city in a great debt.

Asked whether his intention of possibly expanding the present police facility would preclude construction of a new station, Ahern replied, "Yes."

Councilman Frank Mammini made a motion that the council adopt in principle the recommendations of the members of the capital improvements committees "to show appreciation to the people who worked on these projects."

Councilman Warren Steinkamp seconded the motion, forcing the inevitable 3-2 vote with Councilman Bertucelli and Bill Borba siding with Ahern.

Steinkamp then suggested that the council ask for a staff recommendation on a specific consultant firm, and that a small committee be selected "to look at the proposals."

Neither suggestion was accepted. Although in the 4:30 p.m. study session Acting City Manager Larry Ross told the mayor that the staff was prepared to make a recommendation.

Ahern said "We (the council) should make this decision, not a committee."

The three firms submitting proposals were Rafferty, Guerin and Company, San Francisco; Stone and Youngberg, San Francisco; and Wilson. Jones, Morton and Lynch of San Mateo. The latter represents the city in most bond and assessment proceedings.

Rafferty, Guerin and Company said their fee for a study of the police facility financing would be $2,500. A similar study comprising all proposed projects was set at $3,500.

The firm said it would submit the police building report within 75 days and the comprehensive report on all projects within 120 days.

Stone and Youngberg offered to act as financing consultant at a rate of $3,500 for an initial comprehensive report. They ask an additional $6,500 for each individual sale of bonds to finance all or a portion of the proposed police station.

For each individual sale of bonds to finance the other proposed capital improvements, the firm asks $7,500 for general obligation bonds sold and $10,000 for the sale of revenue bonds.

Wilson, Jones, Morton and Lynch gave rates for special assessment and assessment bond proceedings at two per cent of the total cost, plus a minimum fee of $750.

Rates for general obligation bond proceedings was offered at one per cent of the first $500,000 of the principal amount, one-half of one per cent of the next $500,000 and two-tenths of one per cent of any amount of $1,000,000.

For revenue bond, lease-purchase or leaseback proceedings, the firm asks two per cent of the principal of the bonds issued.

Wilson, Jones, Morton and Lynch's proposal stated that, "In the event of any abandonment of any proceeding without the issuance of any bonds or the levy of any assessments, the city would be under no obligation on account of legal services theretofore rendered."

This would indicate that preliminary studies would be performed without cost. The fees quoted by Rafferty, Guerin and Company, and Stone and Youngberg for the initial reports would be due and payable upon receipt of the report by the city.

Promotions For Bruno Policemen

During the past month Chief of Police, Russell Cunningham, announced several changes in assignments within the ranks of the San Bruno Police Department.

Officers Steve Cottini, Kenneth Navarre, and Jerome Canning have completed their one year of probation, and are full fledged members of the department at the present time.

Officers Navarre and Cottini completed their basic training at the College of San Mateo during the spring of this year, and officer Canning is attending the fall program of instruction which is co-sponsored by the San Mateo County Law Enforcement Association and the College of San Mateo.

Detective Jack Gibson, 28, has been appointed to the position of Sergeant of Police to fill the vacancy created by the injury to Sergeant Armand Garbarino who injured his back while making an arrest.

Sergeant Gibson is married and he and his wife Shirley are the proud parents of two children, Timothy 2, and Carolyn 5. Jack has been a member of the San Bruno Police Department since 1964 and has served as a patrolman, motorcycle officer, and detective. He received the 1969 Meritorious Award from the San Mateo County Council of Lions' Clubs and is presently completing studies at Skyline College.

Officer James Hall, 32, has been appointed to fill a vacancy in the Detective Bureau. Officer Hall joined the San Bruno Police Department in 1961, and has served as patrolman and court liaison officer for the department. While Detective Hall attends classes at both Skyline College and the College of San Mateo and performs his duties for the department, his wife, Ann, cares for their four children, James 12, Debra 10, Kenneth 9 and Robert 4.

SSF Lets Pact For Clay Avenue Park Improvement

S. M. Labrucherie and Associates has been awarded the contract for improvements to the South San Francisco Clay Avenue Park. Their low bid was $73,181.

According to Supt. of Parks and Recreation Bob Maxey, the architectural firm of Ribera and Sue is in contact with Labrucherie to discuss possible reduction in cost of the project.

Maxey told the councilmen the re is a possible $6,900 in cuts available. He, however, recommends only an estimated $2,500 in cuts. Maxey said the other $4,400 cut would cuase a delay in construction because it concerns structural change.

The park superintendent also said the last estimate given on the park was $62,000. He said, however, this did not include two items which are estimated to cost $13,000, and would bring the total estimate to $75,000.

Should the councilmen agree to Maxey's recommendation of accepting the $2,500 in cuts, the cost of the contract would be approximately $70,600.

Daly City Soldier Killed In Action in Vietnam

PFC Jack Wagner of Daly City was buried with ufll military honors at Golden Gate Na- Friday, less than three months after being assigned to Vietnam.

The 21-year-old former Lincoln High School student entered the U.S. Army in April and received training at Fort Lewis, Washington and Fort Benning, Ga.

An official announcement of the death simply said young Wagner was killed in action near Da Nang on October 2.

He is survived by an older brother, Ford T. Wagner; sister, Mrs. Cheryl Berry, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ford L. Wagner — all of Daly City. His parents live at 380 Miriam.

Funeral services were conducted Frilay at the Serra Duggan Mortuary, 500 Westlake Avenue, Daly City, thence to St. Thomas More Catholic Church for a requiem mass.

Jefferson High Trustees Approve Mexico Trip

It appears 18 Daly City fourth-year Spanish students will be able to "celebrate the culmination of their high school language program" with a trip to Mexico this year.

Trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District tentatively approved the plan, contingent upon drafting of final details by the instructors involved.

According to George de Shazer of Westmoor's foreign language department, the students would visit historical sites in the vicinity of Mexico City, Taxo and perhaps Acapulco during their Easter vacation.

the students to practice speaking Spanish with citizens of Mexico and to see first-hand the historically important aspects of the country," de Shazer said.

It would give the students, he added, "an opportunity to learn if their language study has been worthwhile."

He said the experiences by the students, who are formulating fund-raising activities to pay for thir trip, "should prove highly rewarding both in linguistic improvement and cultural appreciation."

San Bruno Cable Television Will Remain City Owned

By BOB PETERSON

It appears San Bruno's cable television system will remain a municipally owned utility.

Councilmen Thursday by not responding told a prospective purchaser they were not interested in his offer.

William R. Sinkunas, vice president of Nation Wide Cablevision, Inc., Los Angeles, told the councilmen he is ready to sit down and negotiate for the system.

Sinkunas had written a letter to the city September 25 saying he was interested "in purchasing the city's municipal CATV franchise and turnkey contract with Jerrold Corporation.

City Manager Christopher (Kit) Menkin attempted to report on the progress and needs of the system when Sinkunas asked to be heard.

He methodically explained why the system would not work as a municipally owned entity, then said he's take it off the city's hands.

According to Sinkunas, Menkin's quotes on costs were not accurate and since his company already owns franchises in practically every other city down the Peninsula it would only be natural to add San Bruno to the list.

"No city has maintained 65 per cent saturation. You can hookup 65 to 70 per cent, but 35 per cent of the potential is the greatest you can expect," said Sinkunas. "There will be a 50 per cent disconnect."

The cable television vice president also said the city has nothing to offer cable television subscribers. "You're not grandfathered (can't bring in outside channels per Federal Communications Commission regulations), you're close to the transmitters (now), and you're in a flat area."

"Cable television was born to bring in reception where none or poor reception existed. It is on the come and not profitable in the metropolitan area as it is known today," said Sinkunas.

Councilman George Corey said he wasn't interested in selling. "I want to go ahead with Cable television," said Corey. "I am not impressed with what I heard here."

Sinkunas left the council chambers and a short while later John Faulkner of 1120 Kains Avenue addressed the councilmen. He said he was a cable technician for T.V. Signal of San Francisco.

Faulkner proceeded to give an analysis of the technical aspects of cable television, on many occassions contradicting what Sinkunas had said earlier.

On more than one occasion he said he wished Sinkunas had remained so that he could ask for further explanations.

Corey said one of the best responses in a card survey was the area east of Junipero Serra.

Two residents voiced objections to the system. George Lochner said he objected because it was not right for the city to get into a profitable business. He cited cable television problems in Santa Rosa and pending lawsuits against that city.

John Girdish's protest was that the subsidizing of the system was from all taxpayer's money, yet, according to him, the system will not serve all the people.

Costly DC Accident

That was an expensive accident Jose Vargas of San Francisco was on Wednesday on Mission Street in Daly City.

The damage to his car was slight and the utility pole and parked car he hit escaped serious damages.

But when police asked to see his driver's license, as a matter of routine in making out an accident report, they discovered Vargas had no license and, in fact, had illegally crossed the Mexico-U.S. border.

Jefferson Hi Okehs Change In Boundary

A change in the Jefferson High, Jefferson Elementary and South San Francisco Unified School Districts' southern boundary has been approved in concept by the Jefferson High Board of Trustees.

The change involves the transfer of 49 lots to South San Francisco and 39 lots to the other two districts, whose boundary line is the same, in the Serramonte housing tract, near Hickey Boulevard.

Supt. Edward Morgan explained that the present line cuts through a portion of the subdivision itself, not along roadways.

The change merely shifts the boundary line to the nearest street.

The Jefferson districts will lose ten houses in the alteration.

Mrs. Woodrow Soals and Mrs. Malvin Rivenbark are co-chairmen.

Scout Pack 291 Receives Charter

At the recent meeting of Cub Scout Pack 291, Cubmaster Robert Hermone announced the retirement of Den Mother Vera Warren.

The new charter for the Pack was presented to Fr. Albert Bitangjol, assistant pastor of Mater Dolorosa Church, the sponsoring institution, and Milt Kerrigan, Institutional Representative.

Three new Cub Scouts introduced to the Pack were Kevin Kerrigan, Steven Ahls and David Johansen.

Danny Latham, Erik Nyberg, Christopher Young, Ricardo Carrillo, and Constantino Marenco received their Bear Books.

Awards were presented as follows:

Christopher Young, four silver arrows; Dennis Magill, two silver arrows; Bobby Warren, two silver arrows; Kurt Smith, one silver arrow; Sean Dwyer, gold arrow. One-year service pins were awarded Sean Dwyer, Richard Malsack, Derek Wiley, Christopher Young, Brian Kenny, Constantino Marenco, Ricardo Carrillo, Kenny Mifsud, Danny Latham and Kurt Smith. John Funghi, Dennis Magill, Bobby Warren and Arthur Guajardo were presented with their two-years service pins and Tim Kerrigan, his three-year service pin.

Other awards were made to Erik Nyberg, Wolf Badge; Mike Martin, Denners Bars; Kenny Mifsud, Robert Carlson and Ronald Doane, assistant Denner Bars.

Webelos badges were presented to: Dan Mariner, Craftsman, Outdoorsman, Showman; Steve Mifsud, Forester; Patrick Cassano, Athlete; Tim Kerrigan, Naturalist; Steve Bertetta, Forester and Athlete; Jack Meyer, Athlete; Steve Kriletich, Aquanaut and Forester; John Funghi, Athlete, Forester, Sportsman and Scholar.

New Webelos Robert Warren, Dennis Magill, Arthur Guajardo, Kurt Smith and Stan Dwyer were welcomed to their rank by Larry Casey and Lonzo Warren, leaders of Webelos Dens 1 and 2. The Arrow of Light and graduation certificate from Webelos were presented to David Gathings by Webelos Leader Larry Casey, who then, in his capacity as Scoutmaster, BSA Troop 60, accepted David as a full-fledged Boy Scout.

Tim Kerrigan, after receiving his graduation certificate and Arrow of Light from Cubmaster Hermone, was welcomed by Scoutmaster George McQuaid to BSA Troop 291. Webelos Mike Casey received the Arrow of Light from his proud father, Webelos Leader Larry Casey. Entertainment followed, with a mime band performance by all the Pack, an Irish jig by Sean Dwyer, an accordion solo by Mike Martin and a Recorder duet by Danny Latham and Brian Kenny. Refreshments followed.

OLPH Plans A Weekend Paper Drive

Moses Guillory, president of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Fathers' Club, announced a two-day parish paper drive to raise funds for youth activities.

According to Guillory, this is one fund raising activity that requires practically no effort on the part of those who wish on the part of those who wish to help.

A trailer van will be parked at the school, 80 Wellington Street, Daly City, all day October 17 and 18 for the convenience of the residents of Daly City and neighboring communities who wish to drive by and drop off papers.

Members of the Fathers' Club will be on hand both days to assist.

ACS Branch Plans Fund Raising Sale

The South San Francisco - San Bruno Branch of the American Cancer Society held its first meeting of the fall season at the home of Mrs. Don Scott.

Present were many volunteer works from the South San Francisco and San Bruno areas.

Plans are now underway for a garage sale at the home of Mrs. Scott, 3789 Erris Court, South San Francisco, to be held October 24-25, as a fund raising event to further help the American Cancer Society.

Women who may be interested in joining the branch, are asked to call Mrs. Scott at the Erris Court address, and are eelcomed to attend the next meeting on October 19, 1970, at 8 p.m. at her home.

Area residents are reminded that November 9-15 will be Cancer Education Week. During this week educational material will be made available at the local libraries, various organizations, and throughout the city.

MARY'S HELP HOSPITAL GUILD members Mrs. Vernon Okerstrom, Mrs. Philip Glebow and Mrs. Joseph Schott preview the 1971 Coupe de Ville Cadillac, to be awarded by the guild at a cocktail party October 30. All proceeds will be earmarked for the coronary care unit at the local hospital.

Serramonte Plans an 'Oddball' Event

An "Oddball" theme will prevail at the fourth annual dance sponsored by the Serramonte Homeowners Association October 17 at the Italian American Social Club.

The cost is $17 a couple for members of the Serramonte Homeowners Association and $20 a couple for Serramonte residents who are not members.

This includes a cocktail hour from 6:30-7:30 p.m.; a roast beef dinner at 7:30 p.m. and drinks and dancing 'til 1 a.m.

It is not necessary to go in costume but those planning to follow the theme, "The Oddballs Are Coming," can do so by wearing a funny hat, shoes on the wrong feet, clothes inside out — or by wearing anything that would appear a little odd.

There will be an award for the "Oddest Oddball."

Tickets must be purchased in advance. No tickets will be sold at the door.

Mrs. James Laurio, social committee chairman is coordinating preparations.

Benefit Pumpkin Patch in Pacifica

Through the combined efforts of the Pacifica Chapter of the American Field Service and the Terra Nova and Oceana AFS student organizations, this year's Halloween pumpkin may be purchased from the "Most Sincere Pumpkin Patch" October 24-25, from 10 a.m. to dark.

The Pumpkin Patch will be located on the Linda Mar beach, adjacent to the city parking lot and Wisbey Realty.

Proceeds from this "Most Sincere" effort will go toward the AFS Scholarship Fund.

Under the Americans Abroad program of AFS, the Pacifica Chapter is eligible to apply to send a Pacifica student to school in a foreign country. Eligibility for this program was attained when the local chapter was able to host Roger Muller, an Australian student now living with the Rudi Tretten family in Vallemar, for this school year.

The American Field Service is a non-profit, non-sectarian organiztaion which, through its international scholarship programs at the secondary school level, endeavors to bring about understanding among people of many nations by providing new living and learning experiences for teen-age students.

Jeff High Observing Lunch Week

National School Lunch Week is being observed at all schools in the Jefferson Union High School District this week with a special menu planned for October 14.

Director of Food Services Ann Barreto has announced that students at Jefferson, Oceana, Serramonte, Terra Nova and Westmoor will join with students at 77,000 other schools across the nation when they eat Wednesday's special menu of baked chicken, biscuits and butter, green peas, cole slaw, cranberry sauce, oatmeal raisin cookies, and milk.

Because President Richard Nixon signed new legislation, which provided for additional funds for the National School Lunch Program, this "type A" lunch will cost only 45 cents, although the actual cost is 60 cents per student.

By taking part in the School Lunch Program the JUHSD is able to offer to its 7500 students a "type A" hot lunch or bag lunch for 45 cents. Last year 160,000 of these lunches were served in the five high schools. Of these 160,000 lunches, 16,000 were served to needy students in the district

In addition to the "type A" lunches, Mrs. Barreto and her staff at each school offer a la carte items to the students.

In the respective school kitchens during the '69-70 school year 250,400 assorted hot and cold sandwiches were made and sold a la carte, plus 48,964 hot dishes such as spaghetti, pizza, soup and enchiladas, and 190,200 assorted salads. The students also consumed 900,000 units of cookies, cakes, and pies.

Milkshake and French fries are also popular a la carte items with 10,560 of the former and 70,160 pounds of the latter being eaten last year. In the pre-packaged field 402,152 1-3 quarts of milk, 18,480 dozen doughnuts, 11,583 dozen potato chips, and 17,600 dozen ice creams were also sold. Mrs. Barreto stressed that the district purchases their foods locally whenever it is feasible.

"Although National School Lunch Week is only celebrated from October 11-17, we shall continue to serve the best food available to our students all year long," says Mrs. Barreto, "as there is a known relationship between a student's nutritional condition and his ability to learn. (Menu page 10.)

Nevada Sojourn for Newlywed Pair

Nevada is the honeymoon destination of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Stephen Clapp (Nancy Marie Gomez) who recited wedding vows Saturday afternoon at Hope Lutheran Church in San Mateo.

Yellow and white roses interspersed with yellow and white autumn flowers were arranged on the altar for the 1 o'clock service which was followed by a reception at the Highlands Community Club in Redwood City.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Beverly Gomez of Belmont and Robert Gomez of South San Francisco. Mrs. Doris Forester of Belmont and David Clapp of San Francisco are the benedict's parents.

Nancy, who walked with her father to the altar, was dressed in an Empire floor length gown of white satin brocade. She carried yellow and white roses.

Moss green crepe Empire gowns trimmed at the bodice in white and yellow and highlighted by short sleeves were worn by all the attendants.

Leann Stanker, the matron of honor, carried three yellow long stemmed roses. One long stemmed yellow rose was carried by each of the bridesmaids, Karen and Linda Gomez, sisters of the bride, and Jill Clapp, the bridegroom's sister.

Dressed in a miniature version of the maids' gowns was flower girl Tami Ann Gordon.

Rich Boyer was best man and ushers were Jeff Hagen, Mike Sherry and Mike Schroeder.

After greeting guests, the new matron changed to a two piece Navy blue skirt and jacket trimmed in white with white accessories. A graduate of Carlmont High School, she also is the sister of Ronald Gomez and Robert Gomez II.

Also a Carlmont High School graduate, the benedict is the brother of Carol Weinbrock and Vicki Sanders.

Resident Of Colma Will Be Married

A family gathering at the Colma home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Kaufmann was the occasion for them to announce that their daughter, Judith Ann, will become the bride of Valdemar Cantu of San Francisco.

Judith was graduated from St. John Ursuline High School in San Francisco and the College of San Mateo, where she belonged to the Newman Club and Alpha Gamma Sigma. Ronald, Pauline and Jackie Kaufmann are her brother and sisters and Treffle LaBadie is her grandfather.

Widget World Is Open

A welcome surprise for local women with small children is the news that the YWCA sponsored Widget World Nursery School is in need of an increase in enrollment.

According to Mrs. Barbara Reich, publicity chairman for the San Mateo County YWCA, the school is open to children of all races and religions between the ages of two years nine months and five years. The program is in its fourth year but has been completely revised and relocated in the Westlake Lutheran Church Annex at 222 Avalon Drive, near the Skyline Plaza shopping center.

Mrs. Cheryl Bennallack is the director of the state licensed school and she is assisted by Kathleen O'Callahan. The newly approved program allows for working mothers as well as mothers who are able to participate in the traditional co-op type of program.

Classes are in session year-round with daily programs which run from 9:30 a.m. until noon. Cost to parents who take part in the co-operative work schedule begin at $14 per month for one child attending two mornings per week. Working mothers who are not able to assist pay a slightly higher fee.

Anyone interested in observing the school while classes are in session is urged to call the YWCA office, 756-7370, to make the necessary arrangements. Registration and medical forms are also available at the "Y" office, 375 South Mayfair, room 217.

In other news from the local "Y", Mrs. Collins Orton reports that her committee is still collecting rummage for the "Y" Buys Bazaar and Rummage Sale" that will be held on November 7 in the Community Baptist Church on Elmwood Drive at Southgate in Westlake.

Mrs. Orton will arrange to pick up or receive clean and usable toys, bric-a-brac, books, records or white elephants and potted plants. The committee has elected to avoid sale of heavy appliances and used clothing but Mrs. Orton will be delighted to accept other types of donations. Persons wishing to contribute may make arrangements by calling Mrs. Orton, 755-2274.

Proceeds from the sale will be use to help finance the YWCA growing program of community service activities, Mrs. Orton said.

THINKING AHEAD to Christmas?

Mrs. Mario Mangini of the Mary's Help Hospital Guild reports that a large and varied assortment of Christmas Cards are available through the Guild.

Mrs. Millie Dunow, chairman of the card sales committee, has arranged to have a guild representative available to take orders each Monday and Thursday from 10:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. at a desk on the second floor of the hospital. Proceeds from guild activities are used to finance the coronary care unit at the hospital.

THE MEMBERS of the Pacifica Federated Women's Club will hold a Champagne Smorgasbord dinner Friday evening in the St. Peter's Parish Hall, according to Mrs. Alice McPeak the publicity chairman for the club.

In years past the group has held a Sunday afternoon tea and the departure from tradition is planned as an effort to get the club's program off to a warmly friendly, social start and introduce interested women of the community to the club, its members and its program.

All local women are urged to consider membership in this group and a personal invitation to individuals is not necessary. Any woman who feels she might be interested in affiliating with the club is urged to call Mrs. Laura Michaels, president, at 355-7146, or Mrs. Theda Capaci, dinner chairman, at 359-2726, and make a reservation.

Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. Mrs. Virginia Meyers has been in charge of the entertainment committee and Mrs. Marjorie Whitney and Mrs. Frances Morais have done the decorations and will do the arranging of the hall. Other members of the dinner committee are Mrs. Yolande Valdez, Mrs. Maxine Delaney, Mrs. McPeak, Mrs. Barbara Bugby and Mrs. Frances Maggi.

Louanne Heath's Datebook

The regular October business meeting of the Federated Women's Club will be held October 20, at 8 p.m., in the Crespi School faculty room. Women who elect to join the club following Friday's dinner will be initiated at that time, Mrs. McPeak has announced.

MINI-MIDI OR MAXI? Those who attend the Mercy Guild's November Noel may be a step closer to an authoritative answer to the burning fashion question, according to Mrs. Albert Bucci, publicity chairman for the guild.

McDonalds of Serramonte will present its latest fall fashions during the champagne luncheon and fashion show November 14 in the Barrett Hall on the Mercy High School Campus.

Mrs. John Cronin, the general chairman, has named Mrs. Richard Holl as reservations chairman and her co-chairman is Mrs. Cornelius Maloney. Tables for 8 to 10 and reservations for $5.50 per person may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Holl, 586-7779 or Mrs. Maloney, 586-3448.

All proceeds from this social event will be used for educational aids that will benefit the students at Mercy High, Mrs. Bucci said.

THE MONTHLY POT LUCK dinner at Lakeside Presbyterian church, to be held Friday evening, will honor members of the choirs.

No reservations are required for the family night dinner but those whose names begin with the letters A through C are asked to bring dessert for 10 persons. Those whose last names begin with the letters D through L are requested to bring a main dish large enough to serve 10 and all others are asked to bring enough bread and salad to serve 10 persons.

Dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the social hall of the church, Nineteenth Avenue at Eucalyptus Drive.

ANDREW PERNER, Director of Guidance at Riordan High School was the featured speaker at the Riordan Guild meeting held at the school last evening. Berner, spoke on the subject of Requirements and Availability of College Scholarships. Mrs. John Ferguson, program director, made the introductory remarks.

MRS. LOIS CASTILLO and Mr. and Mrs. Murray H. Freedman were the localities who took part in a recent weekend outing to New York City.

Members of the group stayed at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel spending their days sightseeing and on Saturday evening watched the Broadway production of Company at the Alvin Theater.

The return flight on Sunday was aboard one of the new United 747 Friendships.

4-H Awards in San Bruno

The San Bruno 4-H Club celebrated their annual Achievement Night recently at a buffet dinner held at Russo's in San Bruno. This active club recognized the achievement of each member with the presentation of awards earned this past year, presented by (1) the club's own All-Star Cheryl Buchanan, (2) President Barbara French, and (3) community leader, Mrs. Jeanne French.

Honored guests were Ted Long, councilman, City of San Bruno; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Mojas, Lions Club; Mr. and Mrs. Bud Fountain, Lions Club; Mr. and Mrs. Mario Nardi, Rotary Club, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Munnikhuysen, Rotary Club. Two other special guests were Mrs. Shirley Elkins of San Bruno, and her daughter, Kim, winners of the club's Disneyland trip for two.

The guests and members were entertained by four young dancers, Kathy Bogdanoff, Jose Dobelle, Amy Shima and Terry Shipley, who took the audience on an imaginary trip to the South Seas.

Besides celebrating past year achievements, the incoming officers were installed. They are: Dave Priest, president; Larry Testa, vice president; Lisa French, secretary; Melanie Buchanan, treasurer; Mary Ann Toschi, reporter-historian; Kathy Bogdanoff, recreation leader; Lynn LoReaux and Patty Donahue, song leaders, and Bill Maria and Dave Friedland. Also introduced were all the adult leaders for the coming year. Mrs. French, community leader, was presented with a gift of appreciation from the members of the club. Everyone had a great time and the evening was a tremendous success!

BAZAAR PLANNED — The San Mateo County YWCA's "Y's Buys Bazaar and Rummage Sale" has been planned for November 7, from 10 a.m.-3 p.m., at the Westlake Community Baptist Church, Elmwood and Southgate Streets in Daly City. Sorting through some of the usable items that have been collected to date are (left to right) Mrs. Edward Raymond and Mrs. Nimrod Konn of South San Francisco, and Mrs. Conrad Reich and Mrs. Collins Orton of Daly City. Oceana High Drug Panel On Thursday

The Oceana High P-TA will present a panel on "Dope: Its Effect On Family, School, Community, and Youth," Thursday at 8 p.m., in the school cafetorium.

The panel will consist of Dr. Robert Watt, principal of Oceana, who will serve as moderator; Ralph Rutley, project director of Youth Service Bureau; Blake Bauer, Oceana student body president, and Randy Valdez, former Oceana student and now attending Skyline Junior College.

Rutley, currently on leave of absence from the probation department will relate some of the efforts put forth by the bureau to work with youth.

"Our first responsibility is to divert problem youth from the juvenile system by providing a more adequate and relevant means of meeting the needs of troubled youth," Rutley said recently.

Having served as assistant probation officer since 1965, Rutley will bring to his audience experience in dealing with problems of youth today.

He is a graduate of San Francisco State College, and received the Bachelor of Divinity degree from the Berkeley Baptist Divinity School. He is also a licensed marriage counselor.

Employed by the County Delinquency Prevention Division, Rutley explained that his project is one of nine in the state, and that it is funded by state and federal government.

Youth and adults are invited to attend this informative program. A question and answer period will follow.

October Fest To Provide Mission Funds

Octoberfests provide citizens of the San Francisco Area and San Mateo County an opportunity to celebrate together.

This year's Octoberfest at Hope Church Social Hall, 55 San Fernando Way, Daly City, should attract many visitors as it is only provides people a chance to get together, but it affords them the privilege of experiencing a bit of Bavaria.

In the Bavarian manner, the festival, October 16 from 4 to 10 p.m., will feature German dishes. The apple sturdel, served as a dessert to the meal, may also be purchased as a separate item. Games, a boutique, and a flea market in German-American style will give guests an opportunity to try their skills or to purchase rare items.

A highlight of the festival will be the door prizes which will be awarded to lucky guests. Baked goods from both the Old and New World will be available for purchase.

Chairmen Mrs. Evelyn Bijack and Tom Fine announced that tickets for this festival are now on sale at Hope Church.

Proceeds from the festival will go to world-wide missions.

TN STUDENTS are getting a chance to display their regard for brave members of the faculty this week. A contest is being held between the male teachers to determine teacher "popularity." Students donate pennies, dimes and nickels to the teacher of their choice. Cups containing the name of each teacher are located in the cafetorium).

The teacher receiving the most money wins. The lucky winner will be the victim of a slap-stick pie-throwing skit at Friday's rally.

This clever scheme was devised by the pom-pon girls, and the money will go toward new equipment for the Spirit Staff. What'll they think of next?

SEVERAL STUDENTS have reported being distracted from their class work by occasional pairs of legs dangling nonchalantly outside of their classroom windows. A mirage? Actually, such distractions are due to the massive paint job that is going on at TN which will repair the ravages of 10 years of existence.

NEW DEVELOPMENT at TN: The traditional box lunches are now served in boxes!

THE ADVANCED Journalism class made an excursion to SF State College last Wednesday, where they sat-in on a lecture given by Ken McDonald, editor and publisher of the Des Moines Register and Tribune.

Introducing this distinguished speaker was S. I. Hayakawa, S.F. State President. (Dr. Hayakawa writes a weekly column for the Des Moines Register & Tribune.)

MCDONALD SPOKE on the role and responsibility of daily newspapers.

Welded Steel Art Exhibited

Welded steel sculptures are featured this month at Periwinkle Art Gallery on Pedro Point, Pacifica. Metal sculptor Robert Hulsebus is having a one-man show through November 8.

A master welder by trade, Hulsebus began creating unusual mobiles, candle holders and wall hangings several years ago using discarded pipe and sheet metal from construction scrap piles.

Today Hulsebus is recognized as a skillful creator of metal art. His welding skill allows him to work with equal ease on candle holders or massive sized freeform sculptures.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Looks Like A 'Steady Job' For Foster's Staff

George Liberace and his Orchestra are now appearing at the North Shore Club Hotel for an extended engagement, following a successful run at Harvey's Resort Hotel . . . It would appear that six of Foster's Farm-Fried Chicken House employees have "steady jobs." Dorothy Lewis, Lois Locker, Kay Holder and Mabel Fall have been on the payroll of Foster's (across from Hillsdale) for 10 years each. Ida Cannel and Doris Muzzy have been serving Foster's breakfast, lunch and dinner patrons for 12 years. As for Manager Wilfrid Caldwell, he's a 22 year "veteran." Add these years up and that means a lot of Farm-Fried Chicken and pancake variety have been served and supervised on these San Mateo premises. You're bound to be happy with the friendly atmosphere and fine service here — and it's available every day of the week . . . The clientele of Tino's European restaurant in San Mateo returns time and again to dine on the superb dishes featured by the Costantino brothers, who are natives of Palermo, Sicily. There are selected appetizers, a nice selection of flavorful soups, any number of favorite desserts and an impressive array of entrees. Flaming dishes are given the special touches on an open oven located in the center of the dining room — which is all very interesting to watch . . . The Blarer's, Marion and Wilfried, who own and operate the Matterhorn restaurant in Burlingame, are back from vacation and invite your continued patronage. "Vacation was fun," said the restaurant team, "but meeting and pleasing the public is also 'vacation' fun for us."

G. Liberace

FLAMENCO CIRTUOSO — Maruano Cordoba, originally from Spain and for many years a member of the touring "Rosario and Antonio Dance Troupe, will make his Peninsula debut Friday evening at Tino's outstanding European restaurant in San Mateo. The musical renditions of this talented Flamenco guitarist may be enjoyed by both diners and lounge patrons Friday and Saturday nights, 6 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Augie Rosasco, Exposition Fish Grotto mogul, heard nothing but raves about a cruise aboard an ocean liner to Mexico. Aug became interested, checked out the price and stopped right there. Instead, he's drydocking his 16 foot outboard, having it all spruced up and taking the family along any day now . . . The Greenwillow Room, Benjamin Franklin Hotel's popular dining room under the management of Executive Chef Tom Delano, now offers three Chef's Specials, with entrees changed daily, Mondays through Saturdays. Priced the same for both luncheon and dinner, the hearty appetite specials include vegetables, potatoes, dessert of the day and beverage . . . Scotty Campbell's is an unbeatable dining place. Steaks and prime rib (as you like it) have always been the specialty of this particularly favored Redwood City restaurant, but since changing hands six years ago to Bud and Theresa Urban, and Theresa's sister, Mary Lou Francis, that emphasis has become stronger than ever. Diners have a choice from the hearth, oven and skillet, as well as the charcoal broiler. If you have a birthday or anniversary celebration coming up, Scotty Campbell's has three dining areas (the Fireplace Room, the Red Room and the Bonnie Dee) which can accommodate small gatherings . . . Pizza fanciers: There's a bargain at Millbrae's Round Table

Augie Rosasco

Al King, the Concerto Music Maestro, pens in a rave message: "Pianist Peter Nowak, whose recordings have sold in the hundreds of thousands back in Denmark, is currently playing in the new Crown Room at the Fairmont Hotel. Peter, in this country for nine months, has conquered most of Europe and has a pretty good start in the U.S.A. This good looking Dane makes women forget the "Liberation movement" and that's a fact . . . Nick's Rockaway, a restaurant-motel combination located just yards from a picturesque beach in Pacifica, continues to attract diners from all over the Bay Area for breakfast (Nick's dining room opens at 10 a.m.), lunch and dinner. A weekend attraction is dancing to the music of the Del Carlo Combo on Friday and Saturday nights. Wednesdays through Sundays from 6 p.m., Organist Jim Payer takes over the spotlight. Located next door, and also overlooking the waters of the Pacific, is The Moonraker which affords Continental cuisine for gourmet tastes, and sports a nautical theme. Don Kelly provides organ music Wednesdays through Sundays. Located in the downstairs level of the same building is the vivid Papagayo Room, another Nick gust enterprise, where emphasis is on tangy Mexican food.

Peter Nowak

Stickney's Pianist Was Former Opera Conductor

Howard, the versatile pianist-entertainer appearing at Stickney's lounge and dining room in San Mateo, is half of the famous team of Byron and Howard, which played long engagements at the Purple Onion, Bimbo's 365 and other top clubs. In addition to playing the piano, bass and organ, Howard has for many years conducted members of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra in opera and light opera performances during the annual Sigmund Stern Grove Summer Music Festivals in San Francisco. He entertains for dinner enjoyment and afterwards for late-evening fun every Wednesday, Thursday and Friday . . . Currently featured in the V.I.P. Lounge at the Airport Marina Hotel, Burlingame, is a lively group of musicians and vocalists, "The calFORnians," who excell with an endless list of refreshing numbers. The group consists of Anne Narin, lead vocalist; drummer Dusty Young, and Carleen Anderson, a skillful piano stylist . . . Birthday or anniversary coming up? Try the beautiful and relaxing Shirt Tail in Palo Alto. If you advise the maitre d' before arrival, you will be pleased with the after-dinner surprise, courtesy of Manager Durby Adkins and host Roland Ravens. Entertainment on the piano or guitar is a nightly feature. Gail Muribus, songstress, and her husband George at the piano provide easy-on-the-ear dinner music.

Howard Byron

Following the Stanford-Purdue battle, last Saturday, there was plenty of action along ElCamino Real on the lower Peninsula. Fabbro's, Redwood City, was packed right after the game and continued to be so through late evening. Reservations are not only suggested for dinner, but should include elbow space at the bar. Frank Fabbro is betting that the Indians will bounce back for tomorrow's showdown with USC . . . Special arrangements for private parties is just another service at the Black Stag in Belmont. Ask for Manager Michael Allio or Assistant Manager Arnie Ramirez when calling for menu and price particulars. Authentic Cucina Toscana cuisine is the specialty here. Jack Loftus, a bartender with a wit as dry as his perfectly blended martinis, is the day plankman . . . Dapper Dan Murphy is the Assistant Food and Beverage Manager at South San Francisco's Holiday Inn. Dan, a 25-year veteran of the catering industry, is a native of St. Louis, where he hosted his own popular lounge. He came West to open the Flaming Pit in the Serramonte Shopping Center . . . If you'd like to combine a scenic drive with a superb meal, we suggest you try Torres Beach Restaurant (Montara Beach, just south of Devil's Slide on Coast Highway One). Frank and Fannie Torres prepared some superb American specialties, and the drive from either direction affords a glimpse at some of California's finest coastline . . .

Frank Fabbro

Both the Donatis, Reno and Julio, and partner Nick Sbarra were missing from their South San Francisco New Southern restaurant last Sunday eve. The occasion was a large party being handled outside the restaurant by the three industrious gentlemen, who also do private catering . . . Clancy's cocktail lounge in San Francisco was named after a mongrel dog whose care has been entrusted to organist Margie Brandon. Little doggie Clancy is quite unimpressed with his new role as mascot and is doing a lot of yawning on the job. He couldn't find a better home — he's surrounded by four talented all-girl poodles known as the "Brandon Sisters." These lively girls will undoubtedly make him one proud mascot. The Poodle family appears as special guest artists at Clancy's, along with Miss Brandon, at the organ bar . . . Committee heads and party organizers would be ahead of the holiday push if they made haste to inquire about the accommodations available for all special functions at the Villa Hotel, San Mateo. "We do all the work" is the policy of this well-established hotel, which is under the capable management of the Greenbach family. Meetings, conferences, receptions, banquets and large parties are given detailed attention . . . Tickets are now available for the Miles Davis concert at Zellerbach Auditorium on the campus of U.C. Berkeley, Wednesday, October 14. Also appearing on the program, which starts at 8:30 p.m., will be the Forth Way.

Reno Donati

Joe Ercoli, the senior guiding force at the Leaning Tower, South San Francisco, suggests early holiday reservations. There are two elegant private dining rooms: one will seat up to 65, while the other handles small groups up to 16. A private bar is also available . . . Taste tip: The Filet-Lobster Combination served Thursdays through Saturdays at the Black Horse, Burlingame. Other entrees personally prepared by chef Chuck Martin include filet mignon, abalone and a special New York Cut. Dinner service from 7 p.m. . . . Judging from the big Saturday night crowd, Tom Garrett's Gold Rush Tavern is a great spot for relaxation. The club's regulars arrive in flocks and migrate toward the large fireplace, while a "Bee n' a Honey" provide the musical entertainment on Cord-o-Vox and drums . . . Los Roquets, an act direct from Mexico City, is currently entertaining audiences at the Sinaloa Cantina in North Beach, which specializes in authentic all-Latin show business personalities. Manager-owner Bill Vroman has gone all-out to make this cantina the one and only original in San Francisco. . . . The Trio Orfeo plays nightly at the Greek Taverna in North Beach, providing music for belly dancers and anyone in the audience who would like to get up and dance.

Joe Ercoli

Jackie Phillips, the redhead comedienne at Finocchio's nightclub of female impersonators, has developed an interesting and profitable sideline. He designs and handcrafts jewelry of all sorts, from rings and ear rings to necklaces. Much of the glittering costume jewelry worn by the stars of this bizarre show are actually custom-made pieces by Jackie Phillips . . . Lou Latorella, manager of Yolanda's Terminal Cafe, located in South San Francisco's Golden Gate Produce Terminal, features different entrees each day of the week. On Fridays, there's a choice of Crab Cioppino or Veal Birds, either of which is also served with fried Chicken. Yolanda's now accepts most major credit cards . . . Pizzas are prepared to go at Romano's Italian restaurant, located in picturesque Pacifica (Rockaway Beach). Enrico Romano spends many hours each day in his kitchen seeing to it that you receive only the finest of ingredients. And pizzas come in small, medium or large sizes . . . Family-style best describes the dining at Colma's Red Turtle restaurant. Chef Ray Platz changes the entrees daily, and all dinners include soup, paste, choice of salad, dessert and coffee. Friday's feature is a seafood plate . . . Board Must Watch Over School Policies–Connolly

The "whipping boy of today's education is school taxes," Jefferson High School District Board of Trustee candidate Dr. John Connolly acknowledged in recognizing that trustees have a responsibility to be a "watch dog on all existing and perspective educational policies."

Dr. Connolly noted that presently the Jefferson High District is working within a 1970-71 budget of a little over 10½ million dollars of which 73 per cent is extracted from local taxes. It used to receive 50 per cent of its budget from the state. Over the years it has been gradually reduced to a present 24.9 per cent contribution, and a greater share of the tax base has been thrown onto the property owner.

The federal government has increased its participation to 2.1 per cent.

The 1969-70 "school pie" was cut up in the following fashion: local school taxes 72.8 per cent, state contribution 26.5 per cent and the federal government's share 0.7 per cent.

"One can see by these figures that education is continuing to cost more each year to each and every citizen," Dr. Connolly said, emphasizing, "with these ever increasing costs it is the responsibility of the board and the administration to be 'watch dog' on all existing and perspective educational policies."

The "frills" of the system must be cut out and every dollar must be judiciously spent to provide the best educational programs for our children within the means of the community, he declared.

The total gross cost for operating district school buses in the 1969-70 fiscal period was $223,955. Dr. Connolly pointed out, with the estimate for the 1970-71 operational expenses at $248,456.

"The school district is not in the transportation business!" he said, "Certainly we must provide some bussing services, but the present costs are staggering."

He proposes that a transportation commission be established with membership from all cities within the district to study and solve the transportation problems of the school and the overall needs of the community.

"It is a logical course needed in the growth pattern of any community," he advanced.

The Redwood City "Mini Muni" system was cited as a good example for urban planners to consider.

"Not only should the goal be better inter-city transportation, but better city-to-city connections of our district as well."

"It would benefit the citizens, business, and most of all our children." He suggested that with the transportation situation, "improved, a good portion of the school transportation funds could be funnelled back into education where they belong."

School bonds have been resoundly beaten in recent elections. "With increases in local taxes anticipated, we will have to seek additional support from the state and federal governments to build new schools and expand our present services," Dr. Connally believes.

He said, "I support any measure to give those over 65 a break in school taxes. They have carried their share of the load over the years and are entitled to some consideration before they are taxed out of their homes."

Castelan Election Upheld

The election two months ago of Julius Castelan as Daly City's representative on the county's Economic Opportunity Commission was perfectly legal, Deputy District Attorney James Aiello reported to the commission last week.

Castelan's election had been challenged by his closest competitor, Morris Tolson, who charged San Francisio residents had been allowed to vote illegally.

Aiello after two month's investigation reported he found only one San Francisco resident, a man who lived a half block outside countyq limits, had balloted. He said the final vote was 125 for Castelan and 83 for Tolson.

Aiello reported he had two criticisms of the election — that there was no privacy and voters had to place their ballots in paper sacks marked "Castelan" or "Tolson," and there was a lot of chaos and noise as the election was held. He recommended guidelines be set up for elections in the future to present a re-occurrance.

Cabrillo Partially Re-opened

Cabrillo Highway was blocked for nearly four hours this morning after two big truck-trailer rigs stalled on a slippery stretch of Devil's Slide.

The California Highway Patrol said the road was partially opened at 10:24 a.m. after a tow truck finally succeeded in pulling one of the truck and trailers away. Traffic was benig guided carefully around the remaining rig.

Deputy Sheriff Italo Ferrari, first officer on the scene this morning, blamed the situation on a combination of road oil that had accumulated on the roadway and a heavy early morning fog.

Stalled side by side on the steepest section of the highway, midway between Montara and Pacifica, were a truck and gondola trailer loaded with dry cement and a truck pulling a flat-bed trailer, also carrying a heavy load.

Ferrari said the first rig stalled at 5:30 a.m. in the northbound lane when its wheels lost traction. The deputy reported the highway completely blocked at 6:33. He explained that the second rig had gone into the southbound lane to attempt to pass the stalled truck and trailer and met the same fate as the first.

During the time the road was blocked traffic was diverted by highway patrolmen at Pacifica and Half Moon Bay.

Times Wins Ad Awards

The Times received two awards for classified advertising excellence at the annual convention of the Western Classified Advertising Association in Reno.

Margaret Buschini, Classified Advertising Manager nof The Times, accepted the awards for The Times.

The awards were: First place for "Best Business Builder" which was The Times' Real Estate Quarterly, and an award of excellence in promotion for a series of advertisements appearing in The Times.

Competiton was among newspapers from 25,000 to 50,000 circulation in 13 western states, including Alaska and Hawaii.

Earlier this year The Times received an award of excellence for its International Want Ad Week promotion from the International Association of Newspaper Classified Advertising Managers. That award was won in competition with all newspapers in the world between 25,000 to 50,000 circulation.

At the recent Western Classified Advertising Association in Reno, Mrs. Buschini was elected president-elect of the group.

$6,179,680 Collected By Crusade

The first United Bay Area Crusade Report meeting, with all the color and enthusiasm of a County Fair, was held last week in the Masonic Memorial Temple in San Francisco and produced $6,179,680, representing 36.6 per cent of the total goal.

"Our campaign to date shows new money in the amount of $323,703 and represents approximately 50 per cent of the total increase needed, even though we are about one-third along the way," Stephen A. Girard, campaign chairman said.

"Although short of the target of $6,500,000 set for today's meeting, we are 8 per cent over last year and will expect an even more dramatic increase by our next Report Meeting, Thursday October 15."

The two featured divisions — major firms and professional — exceeded goals set for October 8 when they reported as follows: major firms, $5,101,970 and professional $208,372. The other six divisions fell short. Here are the totals and percentage of goals:

Special Gifts, John Hooper, chairman, $225,813, 20.4 per cent;

Women's, Mrs. Fredric S. Freund, chairman, $101,822, 18.1 per cent;

Communities, William W. Kurz, chairman, $30,606, 7.5 per cent;

Major Firms, George W. Burgess, chairman, $5,101,970, 48.5 per cent;

Government, Asa T. Briley, chairman, $125,222, 9.2 per cent;

Professional, Tindall E. Cashion, chairman, $208,372, 26 per cent;

Education, Dr. L. Edward Holden, chairman, $110,665, 15.7 per cent;

Commerce and Industry, Harry A. Lee, chairman, $275,210, 11.4 per cent.

The Screaming Eagles Chorus from the St. Vincent School in Marin County, a United Crusade agency, entertained the group and music was furnished by Jack Reed's Dixieland Band.

Paul Speegle, master of ceremonies urged capacity attendance for the second report meeting, which will be held Thursday noon, October 15 in the Basilone Theatre on Treasure Island.

Third Meeting On Dirt Haul

Third in a series of eight Environmental Control Study Committee hearings will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at San Bruno City Hall.

The program will be headed by committee member Sylvia Gregory. She has scheduled a complete examination of Peninsula communities' fill and dirt haul problems.

Mrs. Gregory's program will be headed by representatives from the U.S. Geological Survey. They will explain the geology of San Bruno and how it relates to current problems. Also on the program will be Priscilla Jacobson, from "Save San Francisco Bay," and Mrs. Ellie Larsen, San Bruno representative of the Sierra Club.

The public has been invited to attend.

COAST MEETING

The Pacifica Branch of the American Fuchsia Society will meet Friday, at 8 p.m., at the Sharp Park school on Palmetto Avenue.

Ramland Pep Girls Win At Cheering

A full day of cheers, routines and overall competition led to a first place for Westmoor High School pep girls at the CSM competition.

Competition found cheerleaders performing an original cheer and the pep girls putting on a routine while both learned and performed a new cheer or routine taught by the CSM rally committee.

During half time the winners were announced.

Westmoor took first place for the CSM routine. Capuchino captured second place and Sequoia placed third. For the original routine, Menlo Atherton placed first, Sequoia second, and Crestmoor third. In the cheerleaders' division, the results were the same for both the original and CSM cheers. First place went to San Mateo, second to South San Francisco, and third to Crestmoor.

LE PACINI

Sportscripts

Baseball fans don't build stereotypes only for individuals, i.e., Babe Ruth was nothing but a slugger, but also for teams, i.e., the Yankees and Giants have dominated their respective leagues throughout the years on raw power. Just as it is a fact that Ruth was not just a slugger but also a fine all around player, so is it a fact that the Yankees and Giants have survived on speed, and pitching much more often than most casual fans realize.

Yes, the Yankees have lead the AL 34 times in home runs (what makes that statistic even more amazing is that they haven't done it since '61), in slugging average 29 times, in batting 12 times (only Detroit has done it more often, 16, and Boston as often,), and in runs scored 23 times.

But they have also led in team earned run average more often than any team IN THE MAJOR LEAGUES — 21 times. They have also led the AL in stolen bases seven times. a mark which is surpassed in the AL only by the major league leader in that department, the White Sox (29), and the Senators (15).

True, the Giants have been staggering in the power department, having led the NL in homers 27 times, in slugging average 18 times, in batting 13 times (only Pittsburgh and St. Louis, with 17 and 18, respectivelly, have led the NL more often), and in runs tallied, 19 times.

BUT, they have led in team ERA 14 times (twice in San Francisco) as compared with the Dodgers' 13 times (five in L.A.). Only the Cubs can equal the Giants in that category.

The Giants have also lead in stolen bases 13 times (only the Dodgers, with 20, have done it more often, and the Pirates as often).

All this proves, of course, something which even the most casual fan has always known — that it takes more than just power to win consistently.

SPEAKING OF GIANT-YANKEE power, the Giants, in easily leading the majors in scoring this year (5.1 per game), came up with their highest total since their pennant winning '62, when they averaged 5.3, which had been the highest in baseball since the Dodgers made 5.6 on that great '55 team, and the Yankees 5.6 on their '56 squad.

RIGHT NOW you're probably thinking that it might not be so rare, after all, for a team to combine both raw power with great speed. And you're right. For instance, there have been 15 teams to have led their league both in HR's and stolen bases the same tyear: Brooklyn in '49 (152-117), '50 (194-77), '51 (184-89), '52 (153-90), '53 (208-90), and '55 (201-79); Pittsburgh in 1902 (19-222); St. Louis in '40 (119-97); the Giants in 1904 (32-283), 1905 (39-291), '12 (48-319) and '17 (39-162); and the Yankees in '31 (155-138), '33 (144-74) and '38 (174-91.)

Surprisingly, five of those teams didn't win pennants.

You might be surprised that there have been five teams which have led their leagues in earned run average as well as homeruns and stolen bases: the same year the Giants in 1904 (2.17 ERA), 1912 (2.58) and 1917 (2.27); the '55 Dodgers (3.68); and the Yankees in '38 (3.91).

We're relieved to report that ALL five of those teams won their pennants.

AND AS LONG AS we're playing statistical games today, two ironies: The Cincinnatis, acknowledged all year as the most powerful team in baseball, were outscored by four teams (Giants, Cubs, Orioles, Red Sox); and for those who think ERA's are ALWAYS a perfectly valid indication of effectiveness, consider Baltimore's three 20 game winners. The "losingest" of them, Jim Palmer, (20-10) had the best the best ERA of the trio (2.71). The winningest of them, Mike Cuellar (24-8, had the worst ERA (3.50) among them. Dave McNally (24.9, 3.22), held the middle ground.

Definition of a control pitcher: Yankee Fritz Peterson, who allowed an average of 1.38 walks per nine innings. Definition of a strikeout artist: Minnesota's Tom Hall, like Peterson, a southpa who K'd an average of 10.5 batters per nine innings.

SOMETHING STATISTICAL for the baseball buffs to consider over the long winter. If, after two are out, for example, an error is made and then, say, a double is hit, scoring the man who had been on base on the error, it's an un-earned run, because the man who hit the double should never have gotten the opportunity that inning to drive in the run. Thus, the run doesn't count against the pitcher's ERA. But the HIT does. Why should it? Had the error not been made, the batter who hit the double never would have had the opportunity that inning — right? So why not a new category — unearned hits!

OUR LAST BASEBALL statistic of the week, fans — and who knows, maybe even the year, if you football fans are lucky.

We don't mean to disillusion those who cling to the real old-timers as the best and most durable and most gutty, and especially you Roger Bresnahan fans who consider him the greatest catcher in the Hall of Fame. But Bresnahan, who made the Hall as a backstop, never caught more than 139 games in any season, and in fact the year he caught the 139 was the only season he caught in more than 100 games. On three occasions, he played more games in the outfield than he caught, and he also did a little pitching and played his share of games at first, snmond, third and shortstop.

AND FINALLY, two pet peeves set to light verse:

Games played by those computers,
We suppose can be a lot of fun;
In fact sometimes they're hysterical,
Like Sandy Koufax's home run

But the pairings sometimes are Quite ridiculous it seems,
Like the '27 and '61 Yankees—
How can you compare these teams?

Besides the difference in conditions,
'Tween '27 and '61,
Could there be a doubt
That the '27 team had won?

Baseball experts have agreed,
Since the game of baseball,
That the '27 Yankees were
Surely the greatest team of all

So if NBC would really like to Give the country's fans an added fare,
Play two totally equal teams
That we justly can compare

I just can't figure out,
And I'm sure you'll agree,
The compliants of relief pitchers,
They really puzzle me

If they pitch too often,
They are tired, they harp,
And if they don't throw enough,
They say they cannot keep sharp

If you ask me, I think,
They play at being martyrs,
Hoping that the boss will someday
Give them a crack as starters

When that happens, most will find,
How lucky they were when,
They sat and talked and threw a few,
In the not-so-bad bullpen

Regents Get Their NPL Initiation

By JERRY LITTRELL

The dam done burst.

After 149 minutes and 49 seconds of playing time in which Serramonte High School's Regents had not given up one point, South San Francisco's Warriors got on the scoreboard against the newest entry in the North Peninsula League.

Before it was over Friday at Clifford Field the Warriors had gotten on the scoreboard quite often. Getting touchdowns on long runs, long passes, pass interceptions and short power plays, Ray DeJong's squad bullied its way to a impressive 48-0 victory in the conference opener.

The game Regents were fighting to the end but were just not a physical match for the skilled Warrior machine. South City, which now must face Westmoor's defending champion Rams this week for what could be the 1970 crown, scored the first time it got the ball putting and end to the longest scoreless streak (three complete games) on the Peninsula this year.

Quarterback Marty DeMerritt hit end Tony Sotoa on a 49-yard pass to make it 6-0 with 8:11 left in the opening stanza. The rest was gravy. Sotoa also added two PAT catches to his night's work.

The victory may be very costly to the Warriors, however. Early this year senior halfback Ed Seubert, the Warriors' break-away threat and fastest halfback, sustained a broken right wrist and missed the practice season. He took the cast off the wrist yesterday morning and got into last week's game on defense in the second half just to get his first contact work.

On the second play he was hit and broke his leg, ending his prep football career quite suddenly.

"We just wanted to use him on one series to let him get the feel out there so he wouldn't have too many butterflies against Westmoor next week," DeJong explained. "And now this happens. It's a shame to have his season end on just two lousy plays."

DeMerritt and Sotoa almost combined on another td in the first period but a Regent defender shoved the Warrior end out on the three yard line after a 34-yard pass play. Fullback Wayne Ciardella made the second tally on the next play. Then just as the quarter was ending senior Brad Colopy picked off a Ron Beltramo pass on the 11 and ran in for a 20-0 advantage.

Bob Bachtold picked off another pass in the third period and raced 44 yards for another Warrior score. The biggest play from scrimmage came when SSF substitutes were in as halfback Loren Gava busted right up the middle for and 82-yard scoring run.

As for Serramonte . . . it was nice while it lasted.

Westmoor Routs Jeff, 40-0; Terra Nova Falls To Oceana

There wasn't much problem telling the winners form the losers in Friday's North Peninsula League daylight action — each winning team threw a shutout at its opponent.

Westmoor High School's defending league champions ran up a 40-0 win over cross town rival Jefferson High School; El Camino High School took a 27-0 road victory over Half Moon Bay's Cougars, and Oceana High School won the Anchor Trophy from Terra Nova High School by blanking the Tigers, 33-0.

Pete Matisi's Rams were just too physical for the smaller Indians. The Indian line had problems getting through to stop quarterback Mike Swallow who, although having an off day with just seven completions in 18 tries, managed to connect for 177 yards.

In fact, Swallow took just 27 seconds to score. The Rams first play from scrimmage was a 60-yard bomb from Swallow to Brad Kearns and that was all that was needed. The Rams did have problems mounting any sort of running game again, though, as the leading rusher was Keit Tatum with 63 yards.

Camino's defense did a splendid job of keeping Half Moon Bay in the hole all afternoon while the offense, progressing each week, ground out scoring drives in methodical fashion.

So well did the offense control the ball early that HMB had only two plays in the entire first quarter. The Colts got scores off drives of 62, 65 and 82 yards with Jim Lava leading the rushers with 83 yards.

Bob Bolds, Bob Clary and Gary Dellamaggioria, who recovered a fumble and scooted in from the five for a td, led the stingy defense that stopped the Cougar offense at 130 yards, total.

Oceana made big plays and long-gainers pay off against the Tigers. In running up 33 points the Sharks got only nine first downs but got outstanding jobs from junior quarterback Desi Chavez and junior end Tom Harper. This duo combined for two touchdowns, Chavez getting off to a great start with four straight completions.

Dave Williams intercepted two Tiger passes and scored the first Shark touchdown on a seven yard run. Ric Blasquez and Rick Sumi scored the other tds for Oceana's eleven.

T.N. Students Visit Oceana

Five Terra Nova students were detained by Pacifica police Thursday for curfew violation as nearly 10 students congregated on rival Oceana High School's campus on the eve of the annual Tiger-Shark football game.

The two teams competed Friday.

Ram Freshmen Defeat Jeff

Westmoor Ram's freshmen football team started its regular season on the right track, by scoring a convincing 14-6 victory over the Jeff Indians, October 7.

Bulldogs Bounce Back Awesomely

By JERRY LITTRELL

That long journey towards the Golden Gate Conference football championship has begun for College of San Mateo and the Bulldogs must take each step with extreme care because another faltering would be fatal.

In the hole after the first week's loss to Diablo Valley JC, Bill Dickey's crew righted itself, played near-perfect football last Saturday and crushed visiting Laney Junior College, 46-13, to even its GG Cmark at 1-1.

You name it the Bulldogs did it. The defense was magnificent as it forced seven turnovers (three fumbles and four pass interceptions) as the re-shuffled alignment worked to perfection for the 'Dogs. And, as usual, there was a fellow named Scott.

Tom Scott didn't score a touchdown Saturday. Which is a story in itself. He had scored eight of the 10 tds for CSM prior to Saturday's Laney bash but his day wasn't a total loss. He caught five passes for 152 yards, carried the ball twice for 30 more, had one touchdown called back on a penalty and three times was stopped inside the five after long gainers.

But the real difference against the Eagles was the performance of CSM's second-string. Players like Marc Shea, Dan Cozart, Leo Bernardini, Alex Addy, Potumoe Satou, John Lucia and a host of others all came through with great efforts.

"Last week's loss brought us back to earth as a team," Dickey said. "There was no letdown no matter who we played. We jelled as a team. I am very pleased with the way the game went."

Injuries struck the 'Dog lineup, however, as fullback Jim Olmo left the game early with a badly twisted knee, kicker Ron

Cap Blasts Sparks, 44-0

By PETE BARSOCCHINI

Vince Marchi's Capuchino Mustangs are certainly very poor hosts.

The Sparks High School Railroaders traveled all the way from Nevada just to meet Marchi's crew in a preseason tussle Friday afternoon and they were pulvarized, to put it mildly. The Mustangs manhandled Sparks, 44-0! in a fashion by which no guest should be treated.

Cap controlled the pseudo contest from the very outset, receiving the opening kickoff and scoring less than two minutes later. From there it was all downhill for the 'Tangs as they scored consistently and only allowed Sparks to seriously threaten a tally once in the entire game, and that came late in the final period.

"I'm not very satisfied with the way we played today," commented Cap coach Vince Marchi after the rout. "We were very sloppy at times, but of course we were very good at times also," he added.

The sloppy play Marchi refers to stems from the fact that Cap was flagged for 13 penalties during the afternoon, amounting to 135 yards. This factor wasn't crucial against Sparks, but if the 'Tangs continue to make such a large number of errors in the coming MPL season they could be in for some serious problems.

Keith Hernandez had a fine afternoon at quarterback for the Mustangs as he went seven for nine totaling 158 yards and four first downs.

Capuchino opens up its MPL season next weekend against San Mateo and Coach Marchi stated that despite the fact his 'Tangs rolled up 44 points against Sparks yesterday.

A Need For Officials In Pacifica

The Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department is looking for basketball officials for the Adult Basketball Leage.

The league will get underway October 19.

Qualifications will be as follows: the individual must be at least 21 years of age with a good basketball background. The official will get $4 per ball game and will get three games a night. For further information about the officials' position, please contact Dave Barry at 355-4151 Ext. 33.

The department also is looking for adults in the community who would like to volunteer to officiate the Flag Football League.

The league will be comprised of boys in the fifth through the eighth grades. Games will be played on Saturday at Ortega School, Fairmont West Park and Fairmont School. For further information about the volunteer officials program, contact Dave Barry.

The department is sponsoring recreation swimming Sundays in the Terra Nova Pool.

The program is run from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

The program will end on Sunday, November 1.

Bebe Zanca used the bats of Frank Fuentes and Lou Perna as they both rapped out three hits in helping Bebe Zanca dump Arden Dairy 15-7. Rich Lampe and Jim Daveggio led the Milk boy's with two hits apiece.

St. Francis Delicatessen made it win number "2" by making pizza out of Ramano's 12-9 Randy Wilcox and Joe Maurino paced St. Francis with four hits apiece. Romano's was led by John Rapp, John Leland and Tom King all pounding out three hits on the day.

The All-Stars handed West Wallboard their second straight loss by the score of 11-9. Dick Molar led the All-Stars by going five for six on the day. Mattei had four hits in four at bats for West Wallboard in a losing cause.

Frosh-Soph Rams Triumph

Westmoor's frosh-soph football team scalped the Jefferson Indians, 34-0, on the Indian playground, October 8.

Westmoor, showing a strong offense, marched up and down the field scoring first on a 15 yard fly play to Mike Mouton.

CSM Runners Host NorCal JC Champs

After opening Golden Gate Conference competition with an easier than expected victory over defending champion San Jose City College, College of San Mateo's unbeaten cross country team will be seeking further laurels in the days ahead.

The Bulldogs tackle reigning Northern California JC champion City College of San Francisco in their next league appearance, at CSM's Hallmark Homes course in Belmont, Thursday.

That will also be San Mateo's last home meet of the season (2:30 p.m.).

The Mateans were nudged by Allan Hancock in the 14 team Golden Gate Invitational Oct. 3 in San Francisco. But they easily out-distance all other GGC foes in the meet. A 20-42 victory over San Jose in the GGC dual meet opener merely cemented the Bulldogs in the favorite's role.

Running on their own four mile Hallmark course, the Mateans gave up first place to San Jose's Jack Bush (20:41) but then swept the next six places to put away the victory.

Top runners for the Bulldogs were veteran Dave Robertson, second in 20:59; Vic Masa, third in 21:08; Randy Lawson, fourth in 21:09; and Joe Cortez, fifth in 21:18. The latter trio are all freshmen.

Rodeo Trip Ram Activity

Witnessing the bumps and bruises of the modern rodeo will be Westmoor High School's Horseman's Club, under the advisorship of Mrs. Martha Wright, as the group has made the October 23 opening of the Grand National at the Cow Palace in Daly City their first activity.

The group has also made known their officers for the coming year. Serving as president will be Sue Carson, with Jeannette Aranda, vice-president; Janice and Judy Tierney, secretary; and the treasurer will be Sue Medina.

Soccer Clinic Set For Skyline Gym

The king of all sports throughout this globe is soccer. Last spring when Brazil's Santos 11 won their third world soccer cup in Mexico more than one billion fans saw this sport.

Today this sport is the fastest growing team event in the United States. That's enough for Skyline College's head coach Norm Friedeberg to announce that November 7 at 8:30 a.m. in the men's gym a Soccer Coaches' Clinic will be held.

Along with Friedeberg, two Bay Area soccer tutors will be on the speaker's platform. They are Marino Mangiola, Sequoia High School coach. His Sequoia eleven won the SPAL championship last year and he was named the Coach of the Year. The club also won the Central Court Championship and he was a member of the 1952 U.S. Olympic team. Ernest M. Feibusch is Lowell High School (S.F.) soccer coach and director of Coaching for the California Soccer Football Assn.

Friedeberg is a former All-American player, took his first year Skyline eleven into third place in the WJC Soccer League in 1969 and tutored the AAA Galileo High team to the title, in San Francisco is 1968.

Topics in the all-day clinic will include: equipment and dress; techniques of coaching skills such as goalkeeping, kicking, trapping, heading, and shooting; best offense and defense plays; and clarification and interpretation of soccer rules.

Skyline Wrestling Mentor Optimistic Over Prospects

Optimism is the key word in the future fortunes of Skyline College's wrestling program as Lee Allen, the local's mentor, announced a schedule which includes four invitational gatherings, ten three-way matches, and the Camino Norte League championships.

The CNL title event is scheduled for the Skyline College Men's gymnasium, a unique first for the local scene in that in their second year of competition the battle for team and individual honors will be held at the newest club in the league.

Skyline's Cage Schedule Told

Basketball may not be a sport that causes the sports fan heart beat to quicken at the present time. However, within a couple of months Skyline College's Men's Gymnasium will be filled with noise, dribbling, and running which can be found in a typical cage practice session. All that work and effort will be part of head coach Walt Rilliet's plan to get his team in shape for the 26-game schedule.

The court mentor, who is also the college's director of athletics and physical education division chairman, has a 12-game intersectional listing and 14 Camino Norte League battles.

Included in the non-league play will be a return gathering in San Luis Obispo at the Cuesta College Tournament.

S.S.F. Pilot Killed In Plane Crash

A 22-year-old employe of a San Francisco electronics firm was killed Friday when his light plane hit a 555-foot radio station tower and crashed in Portland's West Hills.

The victim was Bruce Mark Proebstel, South San Francisco, an employe of Bechtel Corp. His parents live in Haines, Ore.

State police said Proebstel was flying from Oakland to Portland in the rented single engine craft, a Piper Cherokee. They said he was planning to go deer hunting.

W. A. Rumsch told officers he saw the aircraft flying at a low altitude just below the clouds, which were low enough to block the view of nearby radio station towers. He said the left wing of the plane hit the KOIN radio tower and came off.

"There was no way he could have missed it," said Rumsch, who reported watching the craft for "a full five seconds."

The aircraft went another 400 yards, leaving a trail of wreckage, and landed in a clump of trees within 100 feet of the home of Mrs. Paula Buckmaster. She said she attempted to reach the burning wreckage with a garden hose, but the flames were too hot.

The charred body was later pulled from the wreckage.

Man Killed, Wife Injured in Accident

A San Francisco man was killed Sunday afternoon and his motorcycle riding companion today remains in critical condition following an accident in San Bruno.

Richard M. Osumn, 23, of 1040 Leavenworth St., was pronounced dead on arrival at Peninsula Hospital, Burlingame, at approximately 5 p.m.

His wife Christine, 21, this morning was reported by hospital authorities to be in critical condition with head injuries.

The accident occurred on Sneath Lane, approximately 15 feet east of Claremont Drive.

Police said Osmun was traveling eastbound on Sneath Lane. He apparently lost control of the vehicle on the curve near Claremont Drive. The cycle swerved across the roadway and collided with a concret culvert.

Death Cause Determined

The cause of death of Dr. Edward Martinez, 42-year-old dentist who died Sept. 4 in a San Bruno jail cell, was attributed by Coroner Paul B. Jensen today to acute alcoholic poisoning.

An autopsy showed Dr. Martinez, father of eight children, had a blood-alcohol content of .57, Jensen reported. A reading of .44 is often fatal, he said.

Dr. Martinez was found just before noon Sept. 4 in a phone booth outside an El Camino Real gas station in San Bruno. Police said he appeared to be intoxicated and took him to jail, where he was found apparently dead some two hours later. He was dead on arrival at Peninsula Hospital.

Jensen said Dr. Martinez' blood-alcohol count indicated he had consumed some 30 ounces of the equivalent of 86 proof whiskey.

S.S.F. Boy Wins Honors

John Beviacqua, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Beviacqua, 338 Valencia Drive, South San Francisco has been named one of America's Outstanding Young Men of 1970 by the Outstanding Young Men of America Board of Advisors.

Chosen for his many professional and civic endeavors, the St. Ignatius High School graduate is vice-president of the Mobile, Ala., Chamber of Commerce and president of the Mobiel Stock Exchange. He is employed as an IBM officer in Mobile, and is head bookkeeper for International Pancake House in Mobile, Ala.

The former South San Francisco resident is married and has a daughter six years of age and a son six weeks old. His parents, his siter, Betty and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Emily Ansaldi, Millbrae, recently journeyed to Alabama to welcome the new family member.

Officials Debate County Fair Future

By LIN DAY

For the first time since San Mateo County's Board of Supervisors appointed the original directors 36 years ago, the question has been seriously raised this year as to whether or not the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta and the fairground complex should be continued.

Recently, a joint committee of county supervisors and San Mateo city councilmen took a hard look at the fair operation, and last week, San Mateo City Council asks for a special joint study session with the supervisors.

In the discussions, three courses of action have been deliberated:

1. Should the present fair program be retained and enlarged, developing it to its full potential? (This includes the recently added Convention and Visitors Bureau.)

2. Should the facilities be retained and developed as a year-around convention center and tourist attraction?

3. Should the land be sold for commercial development, and the fair either be abandoned or moved?

For many years those who advocate enlarging and developing this county's fair have pointed to it as the proper showplace for the emerging electronics industry, the tremendous airlines development, the ecologically oriented suburban way of life, and for leadership in culture, education and sports.

They would like to see both buildings and grounds developed to be a showplace for what they feel is the finest county in California and one of the best in the nation. They want a closer affiliation with today's community activities and programs, more meaningful displays, exhibits and events, and even shows of a calibre to match San Mateo's growth.

They have, in passing, decried a fair of raucus carnival shows strewn with dust and electric cables, endless lines of commercial booths, a devotion to an agriculture that in some cases has almost ceased to exist, and restaurant and comfort facilities that are, at best, bare.

In their criticisms, they have been joined by those who would abandon the fair altogether, or at least move it to another location.

The entire fairground complex, including the adjacent Bay Meadows Racetrack, covers an area of about 226 acres. About 100 acres of this could be separated and sold, some speculate, in assessing potentials.

While the developers look at potentials of 100 acres that might be freed for executive-office development, the California Jockey Club actually owns 176 acres outright, with about 50 acres owned by the Fair. Of the latter, 35 acres are under permanent parking easement to Bay Meadows.

The value of the fairgrounds buildings and development is about $12,000,000, all of which has been paid for by the State of California in its fair program, and all of which would have to be paid back to the state should the land be sold. It has a present assessment of about $3,000,000, which is "far out of date" and is being revised.

Tax Revenue

If it were to be developed as an elite executive office development, according to one local expert, the 100 acres developed would assess at about $200,000 per acre, or a total of twenty million dollars.

He computes the average total tax about $10 per hundred dollars assessment per year. That could come out, he said, to a $2,000,000 annual tax revenue.

Such a program would not be fulfilled overnight, would depend on the business cycle, and might be years in completion. A lesser development, in industrial park warehousing, for example, would be valued at about half that, and produce about $1,000,000 annual tax revenue.

The Bay Meadows track, on the other hand, is producing nearly half a million tax revenue right now, paying handsome tax royalties to San Mateo and to the county, the least of which is $100 a day license fees for every day it operates.

Plans on Books

A third aspect of the fairgrounds, but by none the least, is the concept of developing it as a year round convention center and tourist attraction, keying it to the rapid, multi-million dollar investment in hotels and motels in this county.

For years, there have been plans on the books for convention-center buildings, some of them elaborate structures which include theaters to seat thousands, handsomely appointed meeting rooms, and various service facilities.

Indicative of the thinking in this direction was the selection four years ago of the fair facility and personnel by the county supervisors to operate the Convention and Visitors Bureau, which teams with hotels and cities to attract conventions here, and whose function is envisioned to encompass not only the promotional activity, but also a hand in developing the entire county as a tourist and convention mecca.

Historically, too, the fairgrounds have been filling up with scheduled events each year around the calendar. Thosands of people have and will be turning out this month and last to a giant Octoberfest, an even bigger Mexican Fiesta and then a Grecian festival.

LEGAL NOTICE LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, will receive sealed bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation, and services required for

AN AUTOMATIC IRRIGATION SYSTEM at the SAN MATEO COUNTY FAIR GROUNDS for the County of San Mateo.

2. Instructions for bidders, bid forms, specifications and contract documents may be examined at the office of the County Purchasing Agent, Redwood City, California. All bids shall be submitted in accordance with the requirements and conditions of said documents, including such bid bonds as may be required.

3. Drawings, specifications and contract documents may be examined and copies obtained at the office of the Director of Building Construction and General Services, County Office Building, 590 Hamilton Street, Redwood City, California, upon deposit of $10.00 for said documents, which deposit will be forfeited if the contractor fails to return the specifications in good condition within ten (10) days of the bid opening date.

4. Bids shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo at the Hall of Justice and Records, Redwood City, California, on or before the 27th day of October, 1970, at 2:00 p.m. and will be opened in public in the Chambers of said Board of Supervisors at or about 2:00 p.m. of that day in said Hall of Justice and Records.

5. WAGE RATES: The Board of Supervisors has determined and has had published the rates of prevailing wages in the County of San Mateo, in which the work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to perform the contract. Said prevailing rates are set forth on listing, copies of which are set forth in the specifications for the work, in the offices of the County Clerk, Purchasing Agent and Director of Building Construction. Crafts and rates per hour for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to perform this contract are listed under Wage Rates, Instructions to Bidders.

6. The prevailing rates so determined are based on an 8-hour day, 40-hour week, except as otherwise noted. Existing agreements between the Building Trades and the Construction Industry groups relative to overtime, holidays and other special provisions shall be recognized.

7. It shall be mandatory upon the contractor, and upon any subcontractors under him, to pay not less than the said specific rates to all laborers, workmen or mechanics employed by them in the execution of this contract.

8. A bond will be required for the faithful performance of the contract in amount of not less than One Hundred Percent (100%) of the amount of the bid, and a bond will be required to guarantee the payment of wages for services engaged and all bids contracted for materials used in the performance of the contract in an amount of not less than One Hundred Percent (100%) of the bid.

NELL NORTON

Sugar 'n Spice

Good morning, good cooks.

Last week we had one entree and two desserts, this week we'll reverse the order and have two entrees and one dessert. This first dish is quit easy to make and serves 6 generously.

HAMBURGER-CORN CASSEROLE

- 1 medium onion
- 2 green peppers
- ¼ cup oil
- 1½ pounds hamburger
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 2 eggs
- 1 can (1 lb. one ounce) whole-kernel corn
- 4 medium tomatoes, sliced
- 2 tablespoons margarine
- ½ cup bread crumbs

Heat oven at 375-degrees and grease a 2-quart casserole dish.

Peel and chop onion, remove seeds and ribs from the two green peppers and cut in chunks. Cook both vegetables in the one-fourth cup oil until onion is transparent, then stir in the pound and a half hamburger and continue cooking until meat is brown and crumbly. Remove from heat, cool slightly and stir in the two teaspoons salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper and two eggs. Mix well.

Spoon half the mixture into the greased casserole, cover with the drained corn, arrange half the tomato slices over corn and spoon remaining hamburger mixture on top. Cover with the rest of tomato slices.

Melt the two tablespoons margarine in a small pan, add the half cup bread crumbs and stir and cook until crisp and golden. Sprinkle over casserole. Bake in 375-degree oven for 30 minutes.

FRIED CHICKEN is a favorite in most homes. And since we've learned to fry it in the oven, eliminating the splattering hot grease on top the stove, it's a joy for the homemaker to serve this treat.

This next recipe is a combination dish; chicken, peaches and biscuits, that's easy to fix, delicious and has eye appeal too.

PEACHY CHICKEN

- 2½ to 3 pounds frying chicken, cut up.
- ½ cup evaporated milk
- 1 cup flour
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- ¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning
- ½ cup shortening
- 1 can cling peaches (No. 2½ can)
- 1 can refrigerated biscuits

Combine the one cup flour with the two teaspoons salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one teaspoon paprika and one-fourth teaspoon poultry seasoning. Dip the cut up chicken in the half cup evaporated milk and roll in the four mixture. (Set aside remaining flour mixture for gravy.)

Melt the half cup shortening in a 13x9-inch pan, (not a glass pan, as you are going to make the gravy in this pan.) Place the chicken, skin side down in pan and bake in hot oven (425-degrees) 40 to 50 miutes.

Turn chicken and move to one end of pan. With spooon or rubber scraper push drippings to end of pan with chicken.

Drain the peaches and arrange the halves on top of chicken

Open canned biscuits and separate, place in one end of pan Bake 15 minutes or until biscuits are brown. Remove peaches, chicken and biscuits to hot plates.

GRAVY

- ¼ cup set-aside flour mixture
- 1 cup water
- 1 cup evaporated milk

Blend the one-fourth cup flour with the drippings in baking pan. Gradually stir in the cup water. Boil and stir 2 minutes. Stir in the one cup evaporated milk. Heat until steaming hot, but do not boil. Salt and pepper to taste. Serves 4 generously.

HOW ABOUT FINISHING off the meal with an old fashioned bread pudding with lemon sauce? It's a fine way to use up any stale bread and makes a mighty tasty dessert.

BREAD PUDDING

- 1½ cups stale bread
- ½ cup raisins
- 3 cups milk
- 2 tablespoons melted butter
- one-third cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon each nutmeg and cinnamon
- 2 eggs, beaten

Soak the one and one-half cups bread in the 3 cups milk 15 minutes. Stir in the two tablespoons melted butter, half teaspoon each salt, nutmeg and cinnamon, and the half cup raisins. Add the two beaten eggs and stir into the mixture. Pour into a buttered 1½-quart casserole and bake in 350-degree oven one hour.

Serve warm with this lemon sauce.

LEMON SAUCE

- 1 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 cup water
- 2 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 1 egg yolk, beaten
- 1 tablespoon butter

In saucepan mix the one tablespoon cornstarch and half cup sugar, add the cup water, heat to boiling and cook until clear and thickened, stirring constantly. Add the two tablespoons lemon juice and teaspoon grated lemon rind. Pour slowly over the beaten egg yolk. Cook another minute and add tablespoon butter. Makes 1¼ cups.

Desserts, Salad, Ganishes Have Base of Frozen Apple Juice

Unusual recipes using frozen apple juice as a prime ingredient have been released by Tree Top Kitchens. Made in the heart of Washington State's apple country, the new juice is pure with no sugar added.

Especially good with a pork or ham dinner is a molded Waldorf salad with apple juice lending flavor to the gelatin base.

DOUBLE APPLE SALAD MOLD

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
cup cold water
1½ cups apple juice (prepared with new frozen apple juice concentrate) room temperature
2 tablespoons sugar (optional)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
⅛ teaspoon salt
1¼ cups diced, unpeeled apple
1-third cup diced celery
¼ cup coarsely chopped walnut meats

Soften gelatin in cold water, dissolve over hot water, stir into apple juice (at room temperature). Add sugar, lemon juice and salt. When mixture reaches consistency of unbeaten egg white, fold in apple, celery and nuts. Pour into mold, or individual molds, and chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce or other salad greens, garnish with mayonnaise or other salad dressing, if desired. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

APPLE DROP DOUGHNUTS

1 package yeast
¾ cup frozen concentrated apple juice
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup melted shortening
2 eggs
¼ cup lukewarm water
¼ cup water
¼ cup sugar
4 cups flour

Soften yeast in warm water, pour frozen apple juice and water into large bowl. Add shortening, sugar and salt. Add about 2 cups flour and beat well. Add softened yeast and eggs. Beat well. Add more flour to make a stiff batter. Beat thoroughly until smooth. Cover and let rise in warm place 'til bubbly — about 1 hour. When light, stir down. Let rise while fat for deep frying is heating to 365 degrees. Drop batter with No. 30 scoop or spoonful into hot fat. Fry until golden brown — turn often. Makes about 30.

APPLE FROSTING

One-fourth cup soft butter, beat in 1 egg yolk, add alternately, 2 cups sifted powdered sugar, 2½ tablespoons concentrated apple juice. (For best flavor use frozen concentrated apple juice undiluted.)

APPLE GLAZE

Blend 2 cups sifted powdered sugar, 1-third cup frozen concentrated apple juice. Dip warm doughnuts into glaze. Drain on rack set over waxed paper to catch icing. You can re-use the glaze that drips off.

APPLE JUICE SNOW
(Low Calorie Dessert)

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1¼ cups boiling water
1 6-oz. can frozen concentrated apple juice
2 egg whites unbeaten

Mix gelatin, sugar, salt. Add boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add frozen apple juice and stir until melted. Chill to slightly thicker than unbeaten egg white consistency. Add unbeaten egg whites and beat with rotary beater until mixture holds its shape. Turn into a 6 or 7 cup mold or individual molds and chill until firm.

APPLE PARFAIT

1 2-oz. package of dessert topping mix (for Low Calorie Dessert) - or - (1 6-oz. can evaporated milk or 1 cup whipping cream)
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¾ cup water
¼ cup sugar
1 6-oz. can frozen unsweetened apple juice concentrate

Sprinkle gelatin over cold water in saucepan. Stir over low heat until gelatin dissolves. Remove from heat, add sugar; stir until dissolved. Add apple concentrate; stir until melted. Chill just until gelatin mixture is syrupy (about 5 minutes). Whip cream until stiff. Fold in gelatin mixture. Spoon into 1 quart mold or parfait glasses. Chill until firm. May be added with alternate layers of crushed vanilla wafers.

Nutrition Emphasizes 'Basic 4'

Supplying the consumer with information to make wise daily food decisions is the purpose of the current "Nutrition Awareness" campaign stressing "Eat the Basic 4 Foods Every Day." This nutrition saturation program was initiated by the Food Council of America, a group of food-related associations, to tackle recommendations of the recent White House Conference on Food and Nutrition.

Acquainting the consumer with the food essentials of a good diet was considered a national necessity after the findings of various studies, including the McGovern Senate Hearings and U.S.D.A. diet surveys, were reviewed. Evidence that the number of families eating adequate diets is decreasing no matter the income level was revealed.

Because adequate nutrition is necessary for good health, inadequate nutrient consumption may lead to especially crucial problems. It is now known that nutrient depravation may cause mental deficiency in youngsters, complications during and after pregnancy and tissue breakdown and vitality loss.

Good nutrition, although based on complicated chemical reactions only understood by scientists, can be attained by a simple formula applied by consumers. Each day consumption of protein, carbohydrate, fat, vitamins and minerals is essential for optimum body functioning. A sure way to eat the necessary amounts of these nutrients is to use the basic 4 food groups as a formula. These groups are: (1) meat, (2) milk, (3) vegetable and fruit and (4) bread and cereal.

In menu planning include the following requirements from each individual group: Two or more servings of beef, pork, lamb, veal, poultry or fish. Two eggs, 1 cup legumes or ¼ cup peanut butter can be an alternative for one serving of meat. Foods from this group are necessary for protein, iron and B vitamins. Liver is exceptionally high in iron and pork in thiamin.

Foods from the dairy group supply essential calcium and some protein. Adults and children under 8 require 2 or more cups of milk; children 8 to 12 need at least 3 cups and teenagers and pregnant women, 4 or more. One ounce of cheese can be substituted for ¾ cup milk.

Four or more servings of fruits and vegetables are important daily for vitamins and minerals. One ½ cup-serving of a citrus or other ascorbic acid source should be included daily and a ½ cup-serving of a dark green or deep yellow group member every other day for vitamin A. Allow four servings of whole grain or enriched breads and cereals to complete the basic four meal plan.

Sirloin Tip Casserole For Company

A company casserole that's quick, easy and economical is based on precooked frozen sirloin tips with mushroom sauce from Kold Kist kitchens. Use an instant potato mixture to lattice across the top for a festive look.

CHECKERBOARD SIRLOIN TIPS

4 6-oz. Heat-in-Pouch or
1 28-oz. Family Pack Mushroom Sauce and Sirloin Tips
1½ cups instant mashed potatoes
⅜ cup sour cream
2 tbsp. chopped green onions or chives
2 tbsp. grated Parmesan cheese

Heat frozen mushroom sauce and sirloin tips according to package directions. Pour into baking dish. Prepare instant mashed potatoes substituting sour cream for milk. Stir in green onions. Arrange in checkerboard design on top of sirloin tips. Sprinkle with cheese and place under broiler until cheese melts. Makes 6 to 8 servings at approximately 28c per serving.

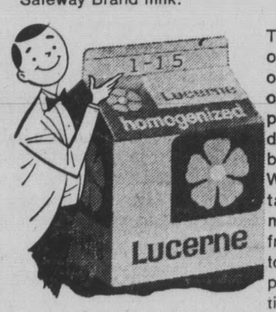
HOW WE MAKE EXTRA SURE SAFEWAY BRAND FOODS ARE ALWAYS SOLD FRESH

(Dates on packages? We've used them for years!)

Many of our perishable foods (such as meats, eggs, dairy and bakery products) sell so fast at Safeway they are on and off our shelves in a matter of hours. This rapid turnover, plus modern packaging and refrigeration, are big reasons why freshness is assured when you shop Safeway. But Safeway takes no chances. All perishable foods which Safeway manufactures or processes also carry a date which our store people use to make absolutely certain that only fresh foods are sold at Safeway. Here, for example, is how the date looks on a carton of Safeway Brand milk:



This date, which appears on the "gable" at the top of the milk carton, tells our employees that any package which carries a date of "1-15" is not to be sold after January 15. We do this to make certain that the Safeway milk you buy will remain fresh and wholesome up to a week or more with proper home refrigeration.

For years, many Safeway customers have used the open dates on Safeway products as a personal, final assurance of freshness. We know that you, too, will be interested to know that Safeway Brand perishables are open dated. In the weeks and months ahead, we will show you how easy it is to read the dates on various Safeway perishables.

Unique Cuisine of Puerto Rico Detailed By Dorado Beach Chef

Albert Fahndrich, the Swiss-trained head chef of Dorado Beach hotel in Puerto Rico, has a kitchen staff including several Puerto Rican chefs expert in their island's foods.

Puerto Rican cuisine is unique unto itself. It is neither Mexican nor Spanish, though the style demonstrates Spanish ancestry. Chicken and rice are staples and can be found in much variety, starting with the common and popular Arroz Con Pollo—Chicken With Rice.

While many of the ingredients used in Puerto Rican cooking are regional and generally unobtainable in the United States, on indispensable sauce in many island dishes is now appearing on most supermarket shelves. This is a tomato, green pepper, onion, and spice combination called "sofrito." The bottled supermarket version saves the purchaser as much work as does bottled spaghetti sauce, though as with the latter, many cooks prefer to make their own.

Fruit is very important in the Puerto Rican scene, particularly coconuts, bananas and plantains—the latter a type of banana that must be fried or baked.

A particular and unforgettable delight of Puerto Rican cooking is barbecued pig—lecon asado on the local menu. This is often a feature of festivals, and the pig is spitted and slow roasted over a charcoal fire.

Following are some recipes from Dorado Beach Hotel, a 1500-acre resort complex near San Juan. Adapted for the home, the recipes are not as spectacular as roast whole pig, but are just as tasteful.

BANANA BREAD

½ cup butter
1 cup sugar
4 mashed bananas
2 eggs beaten
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon baking soda
2 cups flour

Cream butter and sugar. Add bananas, eggs, lemon juice and vanilla. Sift and mix nutmeg, salt, baking soda and flour and add to first mixture. Bake in greased loaf pan for one hour at 350 degrees.

BUDIN DE BERENJENA (EGGPLANT PUDDING)

1 pound eggplant
2 eggs
2 tablespoons melted butter
6 tablespoons milk
1 cup cracker crumbs
½ cup grated cheddar cheese
salt to taste

Boil the eggplant fifteen minutes in salted water to cover; peel and mash pulp.

Beat the eggs, and in a bowl mix together with mashed eggplant, melted butter, milk, cracker crumbs, cheddar cheese and salt.

Put in two-quart greased baking dish and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for twenty minutes. Serves six.

ALMOJABANAS (RICE MEAL CRULLERS)

½ cup flour
¼ cup water
1 cup rice meal—x
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
4 eggs
4 tablespoons melted butter
1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
1 cup grated Parmesan cheese
¼ cup milk
cooking oil

Combine the flour and water and let stand for two hours.

Mix the rice meal, baking powder, and salt and sift into the flour mixture after it has stood.

Add the four eggs, one at a time, beating vigorously after each addition.

Add the melted butter, cheddar cheese and Parmesan cheese, and mix well.

Stir in milk.

In pan in deep, hot fat (36 degrees) drop batter by half tablespoonfuls and fry for three minutes, turning once. Drain on absorbent paper.

Serve hot. Makes about thirty crullers.

x—Rice meal: make in an electric blender by putting raw rice into the container and blend at high speed for two minutes. Sift and discard any particles that do not go through sieve.

SHRIMP NINO, NELLA

2 pounds small, raw shrimp
¾ cup olive oil
3 garlic cloves
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
3 tablespoons chopped anchovies
1½ teaspoons oregano
½ teaspoon salt

Shell and devein the shrimp, leaving tails intact.

In a bowl, combine olive oil, whole garlic cloves, parsley, anchovies, oregano, and salt. Stir in shrimp and let stand for at least two hours.

Remove shrimp and the marinade mixture to a casserole and bake in hot oven (450 degrees) for eight minutes, or until shrimps are pink. Discard the garlic cloves and serve hot as an appetizer.

ARROZ CON DULCE (COCONUT RICE PUDDING)

In a saucepan combine: ½ cup rice, 1 teaspoon salt, and 2 cups water. Bring to a boil and boil rapidly for fifteen minutes.

While rice is cooking, open a large coconut by giving it sharp glancing blows with a hammer at opposite end from the eyes. Drain water from inside coconut and reserve. Remove flesh from shell. Peel and grate enough to measure one cup and set aside. Dice enough of the remaining coconut to measure two cups. Put into container of an electric blender. Add the coconut water and enough boiling water to make a total of 2¼ cups liquid. Cover and blend on high speed for one minute. Strain through a fine sieve, pressing out as much of the coconut milk as is possible with the back of a wooden spoon.

Add to rice: ¼ cup sugar, 2 cups of the coconut milk, and ¼ teaspoon cinnamon. Cover and cook over simmering water for one hour, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat.

In a small saucepan combine: the shredded coconut, 1 cup sugar and ½ cup water. Bring to a boil and cook rapidly for about 15 minutes, or until most of the liquid has cooked into the coconut, being careful that it does not burn.

Stir the candied coconut and ½ cup raisins into the rice pudding. Serve warm or chilled.

Sour Cream Cake Base With Fruit

The use of sour cream goes back to the time when meat and buttermilk were the main foods of the nomads of North Asia. Marco Polo told of the Tartars skimming off the cream — and as it soured quickly — using it in their dishes. It was also added to Slavic sauerkraut and Polish soup!

Over the years sour cream has been used to enhance many main dishes and desserts. And here's recipe to add to the list. Fruit Platter Sour Cream Cake is a combination of a cookie-like sour cream cake base with fresh fruit resting on a creamy sour cream frosting. Bananas, strawberries and peaches are glazed with heated apricot preserves.

Here is the recipe as developed in the Betty Crocker Kitchens.

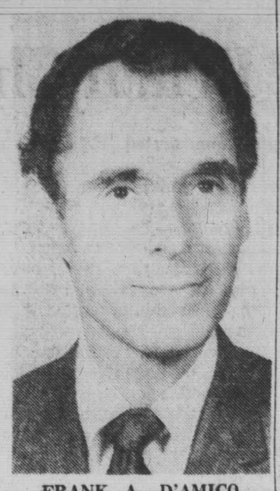
FRUIT PLATTER SOUR CREAM CAKE

2 eggs
¼ cup water
¼ cup butter or margarine, softened
¼ cup sugar
1 package sour cream white cake mix
½ cup chopped nuts
1 package sour cream white frosting mix
1 pint fresh strawberries, halved
2 fresh peaches, peeled and sliced
1 banana, sliced
Apricot Glaze (below)

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour oblong pan, 13x9x2 inches. Beat eggs, water, butter, sugar and half of the cake mix (dry) until light and fluffy. Stir in remaining cake mix and the nuts. Spread in pan. Bake 30 to 35 minutes. Cool. Prepare frosting mix as directed on package; frost baked layer. Arrange fruits on top; brush with Apricot Glaze. Refrigerate. 15 to 18 servings.

APRICOT GLAZE: Heat ¾ cup apricot peserves until melted, stirring constantly. Strain preserves; cool.

D'Amico Is B-A Manager At Tanforan



FRANK A. D'AMICO

Frank A. D'Amico has been promoted to manager of Bank of America's Tanforan Park Branch in San Bruno, President A. W. Clausen announced.

D'Amico was previously assistant manager of the Haight-Clayton Branch in San Francisco.

The Tanforan Park Branch will be moving into new quarters in the multi-million dollar shopping center complex early next year. Previously operating under the supervision of the San Bruno Branch, it was recently elevated to full branch status.

A resident of San Francisco, D'Amico joined the bank there in 1946 and has since held positions of increasing responsibility at a number of San Francisco branches.

D'Amico is a veteran of both the Army and Coast Guard Reserve. He is currently active in the Masons, is the bank's institutional representative to the Boy Scouts and is a sub-deacon in the Episcopal Church.

He and his wife, Gertrude, have a daughter, Jane.

Friday at 6:30 p.m. in the social hall of the Westside Baptist Church, 390 Inverness Drive, Pacifica, the Men's Brotherhood of the church will hold a barbecue.

All men and boys of the church are invited to attend this initial event of the men's programs for the year.

The Rev. Lowell Bergesson, Naval Reserve chaplain, will be the speaker.

D.C. Church Begins New Night Classes

October 5 signaled another first at Calvary Cross Church in Daly City. That evening classes began in the new Calvary Cross Bible Institute.

This institute is planned and designed for the lay members of the local church. The courses offered are varied and include home Bible study leadership, principles of teaching, basic Christian leadership, Bible survey (Old and New Testament), and the Book of Romans.

For those who wish to improve their musical skills, there are courses in Practical Music for band instruments and sight singing.

Enrollment is not limited to members of Calvary Cross Church. Any Christian who wishes to better prepare himself to serve his church anl community is encouraged to enroll.

There are now 15 age-graded, Bible centered classes which meet each Sunday morning at 9:45 a.m. The newest class is one for young married's, taught by Pastor Donnelly. The current study is "Facing the Issues."

"The Baptism of the Holy Spirit" will be the sermon topic at the 10:55 a.m. worship hour. This is another in the current series of messages on the person and work of the Holy Spirit. During the adult worship hour, a church service for boys and girls three to seven years of age is held in the Primary Department of the Christian Education building, with Mrs. Jean Hernandez and Miss Lois Nakano in charge.

Nursery facilities are provided for all Sunday services.

Sunday at 6 p.m., Pastor David Donnelly will begin a new class for boys and girls, seven through 11 years of age, this group will meet in the Pastor's Study.

New Members Accepted By SSF Church

First Lutheran Church of South San Francisco took in seven new adult members, two by confirmation and five by profession of faith.

They were: Mr. and M Henry Abrecht, Evelyn Abrecht, Henry Michael Abrecht, Mrs. Joyce Curry, Mrs. Darlene Fallon and Paul Wildung.

A reception for meeting these members was held immediately following.

A congregational potluck dinner was held the same evening for a get acquainted and general discussion of church issues forthcoming.

Revolutionary Change Sans Revolution To Be Subject

Revolutionary changes without revolution will be discussed October 25 at the Pacifica Unitarian Fellowship meeting.

Robert H. Hardgrove, founding member of the San Mateo Unitarian Church, will speak on a recent, widely acclaimed New Yorker article, "The Greening of America," by Charles A. Reich.

Hardgrove, information officer for the State Division of Bay Toll Crossings, is a former editor of the Burlingame Advance-Star. He has taught at Bay Area junior colleges on the work of media analyst Marshall McLuhan. He also has led encounter groups and was a nominee for State Assemblyman a few year ago.

Mrs. Harry Moseley, Fellowship chairman, said the public is invited. The meeting will be held at 11 a.m. at Oddstad Center Hall, off Crespi Drive, about one mile east of Highway 1.

Rev. Bryant Will Speak At Broadmoor On Sunday

The Rev. Howard Bryant will be the guest preacher this Sunday at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377-Eighty-seventh Street, Daly City. His sermon subject for both 9:30 and 11 a.m. worship services is "The Lost Word." His text is Amos 8:11: "A famine in the land . . . of hearing the words of the Lord." His wife, Emma Bryant, will sing the sacred solo, "It's in My Heart." The church choir of 25 voices will sing at the 11 a.m. service as led by Carl Eagle, director-organist.

Reverend Bryant recently resigned as pastor of the local Second Baptist Church of which he was the founding pastor eight years ago. For three years he was also the director of the Information and Referral Center of Daly City. Now he is in the third year of graduate studies for the Presbyterian ministry at the San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo and at Berkeley. He was recently accepted into membership in the Presbytery of San Francisco and is serving on the staff of the San Francisco Office of Ethnic Affairs of the Presbyterian Synod of the Golden Gate.

Following the second service at 12:15, a luncheon is held at the church for the congregation with infant and childcare provided. This affair is designed by the Goals and Manpower Committee to encourage the people to express their concerns and interest for the church life and program. Elder Gregg Lum will preside.

Job's Daughters, Bethel 94 of San Francisco, took part at the 9:30 a.m. service last Sunday at the Broadmoor church.

The 'Golden Years' Becoming a Tarnished Myth?

By FRANK LAPIERRE

The so-called "Golden Years" are nothing but a tarnished myth to many of San Mateo County's senior citizens who have accepted poverty as a way of life.

They are not alone in their daily fight to fill their stomachs.

In contrast to the three out of ten senior citizens (65 years and older) who are balanced on the edge of hunger, the younger citizen here "enjoys" a stronger position with only one in nine in the poverty bracket.

Daly City Senior Citizens' Member Julius Castellan recently explained that as many as 20,000 households in the county are eligible to receive aid, but only 4,466 are actually taking advantage of the government's latest effort to feed its starving.

The food stamp program is gradually catching on among these needy people, however for one reason or another some officials feel it is not being fully used by those who need it most.

In some cases the bank sponsoring the stamps is too far away for the older citizens to commute. While others eligible for the stamps simply do not have the money to get to the stamp seller.

Other financial institutions have suddenly dropped the program altogether, stating it has caused confusion in their lobbies, tied up too many employees, and the money received for their efforts isn't enough to offset the headaches encountered.

Although this was not the case in Daly City, some senior citizens and other needy families had difficulties in traveling to the bank which sponsored the program. The facility was located in the Serramonte Shopping Center area and many stamp users had no transportation.

The situation was brought to the attention of the City Council by Mrs. Madge Bradstreet and Mrs. Ivy DeWitt. Councilman Louis J. Papan began working with the two women to bring the stamp program closer to the people.

Fred Mommer, president of the First National Bank of Daly City, volunteered his bank's facilities and personnel and an application was made to the Federal government to establish a "branch stamp bank" in the War Memorial Building on Mission Street.

Mommer said the War Memorial outlet will be open the first five days of each month "and perhaps from the fifteenth to the twentieth of the month."

The 434 people now registered to use the stamps in Daly City, represent some $100,000 in food stamps, Mommer said.

To guard the stamps, the city has assigned a policeman to the building on days of operation, it was pointed out.

The intent of the food stamp program is to give qualified individuals the same purchasing power as families in higher income brackets, a government spokesman explained.

As an example, a person with a net income of between $110-$119.99 (family of four) can buy $106 in food stamps for $28.

Lion's Share of Aid Goes South, EOC Member Claims

The south end of the county is getting a lion's share of poverty funds allocated to the county, Antonio Montoya, a member of the Economic Opportunity Commission from South San Francisco, complained at a commission meeting in Redwood City last week.

Montoya made his complaint during a discussion of the Opportunities Industrialization Center West, a job training center in East Menlo Park.

Suggesting that a branch of the center be set up in the northern end of the county, Montoya asserted, "We need it, too." He complained people from the Pacifica, Daly City, South San Francisco area have no transportation to the center.

Edward R. Becks, executive director of the commission, said since the center purchased a bus last year, many people are coming from the northern part of the county.

"The main reason it is in East Menlo Park," Becks said, "is because we get two buildings for about $1." He explained that the center is also designed as a regional facility, taking in Santa Clara County as well, and not directed towards one area.

"A large percentage of the population is being left out of this program," Montoya continued, citing the large number of Spanish speaking people in the northern part of the county.

Becks said that while the center is funded by both the Department of Labor and Office of Econonic Opportunity, much of its money comes from private industry. He said if a branch was set up, the center would loose much of its funding.

Complaining that the center is primarily directed to the black population, Montoya declared, "The northern end of the county is really the stepchild."

All the poverty programs that were originally extended to the northern part of the county, were extended at the expense of south county programs, Becks insisted.

"We had to cut the money out of somewhere," Becks reported. "It came under my administration, and I would venture to say only a black person could have moved money from East Palo Alto to Daly City. I agree with your basic assumption there is not enough money, but there is not enough money anywhere."

Becks said it would be "stupid" if blacks and Mexican-Americans began fighting for the largest share of the pie.

"I'm not saying that," Montoya retorted. "You must begin to focus your attention on other areas."

"You have a valid point," Commissioner Frank Ganino agreed.

"I will never get anything out of Redwood City, because they are out of touch with my people," Montoya complained.

Becks conceded, "We should heighten our awareness of these areas. I think this will come with a different kind of package."

Gerald Monroe, a commission chairman, suggested that needs of various areas should be looked at when priorities are set up, and it was agreed to take the matter up at a study session.

LETTERS To The Editor

The Post gives its columnists a great deal of latitude, offering its readers the benefit of knowledgeable, varying opinion. Their opinions are not necessarily those of The Post, which addresses itself to its readers only through clearly marked editorials.

Editor, The Post:

Your article of October 7, 1970, entitled, "Daly City Schools Set Pace For State," was a "put down" for J.C.T.A.

While praising the two master agreements obtained here, you managed to almost belittle the efforts of the elementary group because they had to fight for their contract! They had to take such a disagreeable step as striking. Meanwhile the high school district "stepped quietly but forcefully into the future."

Why were they able to do this while Jeff Elementary teachers fought? Your article spells it out beautifully. "The J.U.H.S.D. trustees held 14 meetings — some 30 hours worth — on the substance of the ultimate agreement." Edward Morgan felt that if ratified the document "could become the educational springboard that will lead our district to a new and stimulating educational program."

There's the answer — a board willing to listen and negotiate and a superintendent with the foresight to see the value of a master contract in improving education in his district.

Jeff Elementary had neither. Frank Greenwood held firmly to the notions that such a contract was illegal. The board accepted this attitude. We experienced a frustrating summer of cancelled board meetings and postponed negotiating sessions, while the J.U.H.S.D. board met regularly and with meaningful results.

We did have to fight. But, believe me, we are going to appreciate the results and work hard this year and in the future to become a better elementary district.

Congratulations to the J.U.H.S.D. board for being highly perceptive and receptive to a new issue in education which is in the vanguard of things to come.

Editor, The Post:

On April 14, 1970, as soon as the election results were announced, I predicted to a group of people that Dan Pass, Tom McKenzie, Bob Maxey, Gordon Boblitt and yes, even Chief Rosano were about to enter the ranks of the unemployed.

The majority council of South San Francisco is working overtime to make my prediction come true, and will succeed in their mission unless the people of this city WAKE UP Take a look at the records — Mr. Pass' near dismissal was temporarily thwarted; Dick Battaglia was replaced under odd circumstances; former Police Chief Fabbri resigned, I'm certain not because he wanted to leave his native city and uproot his family and life; Tom McKenzie has been outrageously fired with the Mayor's limp excuse, "I have no confidence," which is at best ridiculous and unclear;

Fire Chief Marchi's pleas for justice and parity have fallen on deaf ears, as have those of the Police Department; paid expert advice is ignored; Mr. Pass, Mr. Goss, Mr. Maxey and others have been under constant pressure and rebuttal by our Council Majority.

I point these things out because I feel it clearly shows a trend that our Council Majority continuously ignore experts and qualified, educated, professional and highly capable men.

The only excuse I can think of for their unprecedented actions is that perhaps they cannot cope with this caliber of knowledge and knowhow and want to keep our city in the dark ages of the 19th century.

If you citizens REALLY care about your city and it's snail-paced progress, turn your TV sets off a couple of evenings a month and join us at council meetings and study sessions to get an education on the often underhanded inner workings of the political arena.

LOIS J. BARNES,

City Editor, The Post

THAT CONTROVERSY over in San Bruno of its city managership won't even turn over and catnap, let alone die.

Something, or someone, invariably comes up with an interesting piece of fuel for a fire that already has scorched, if not charred, the community's image.

Latest comes from Councilman Dick Griffith, one of the trio "for" City Mgr. Christopher (Kit) Menkin, the key figure in the affair.

Griffith, who says he wouldn't "spend one cent" of public funds to fight any special election action "fomented" by the minority councilmen in the issue, attorneys George Coney and Maurice Hamilton, popped up with a potentially nasty charge that we're going to look into.

Griffth alleges Corey and Hamilton "hatched a plan when they went to Tahoe together in June" to appoint former South San Francisco City Mgr. Eugene Aiello as City Manager "and then bring Gerard S. Vergeer (retired San Bruno City Manager) back as Cable TV manager."

He said additionally that the pair "got sore" when "their plan backfired."

IN SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, dissent between (or is it among?) a so-called majority council faction and certain residents continues to generate quotes of reasonable interest.

"Nine Supreme Court Justices would have trouble maintaining order," City Atty. John Noonan noted recently of the turbulence blowing in from spectators' row.

On the other hand, citizen Bob Albright, questioning Mayor Pat Ahern as to why the council didn't follow Robert's Rules of Order, and getting a reply from bizzoner to the extent that he liked to let the people talk, asserted: "Then it's Pat's Rules of Order."

IMMEDIATE PAST PRESIDENT of the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association, Mrs. Joan Hemphill, received a plaque this week from the United Teachers' of Los Angeles.

Word from JCTA is that Joan talked to the Southland organization, and the "award" came for her leadership in the development of a master agreement, ratification of which by Jefferson Elementary School District trustees and teachers ended a week-long strike.

ON THE SAME SUBJECT, a letter to the editor raps me for seeming to put down the JCTA agreement in favor of the Jeff High pact.

Personally, I did believe an agreement hammered out without the pressure of a strike was especially worthy. Nonetheless, the elementary district teachers' plights in many instances is appreciated.

We hear, too, that certain Jefferson Union High School District Teachers' Association (CTA) members are upset with the fact the CTA's paper, Action, highlighted the master "contract" gained by the strike action on page One, while the JUHSDTA agreement, gained through negotiation and NO strike, rated only page two.

LATE HELPNOTE: Captain Howard MacFarland of the South San Francisco Fire Department hopes persons interested in learning what South S.F is doing for Civil Defense will attend a meeting of the Civil Defense Auxiliary Firemen at 7:30 p.m. October 26, at the West Orange Library.

MacFarland (Central Station, 588-2761) said applications will be taken at that time for "men interested in becoming members of our reserve force." Donald Allen, at CD office (588-2039) similarly may be contacted for information.

ADULT DRUG USE in Pacifica is on the increase, authorities there have disclosed, but this year's juvenile cases involving narcotics have dropped by over half.

'A Man Is Nothing . . .'

SAMUEL CHANDLER

Daly City Librarian

A student from Skyline College calls our attention to a piece entitled "An Indian's Soliloquy" by Burt W. Aginsky. Space will not permit a copy of the whole piece, but here is part of it.

"What is a man ? A man is nothing. Without his family he is of less importance than that bug crossing the trail, of less importance than the sputum or exuviae. At least they can be used to help poison a man. A man must be with his family to amount to anything with us.

" . . . a man with no family He would be poorer than a newborn child; he would be poorer than a worm, and the family would not consider him worth anything. He would not bring renown or glory with him. He would not bring support or other relatives either. The family is important. If a man has a large family and a profession and upbringing by a family that is known to produce good children, then he is somebody, and every family is willing to have him marry a woman of their group. It is the family that is important."

"IT IS THE FAMILY that is important. In white ways of doing things the family is not important. The police and soldiers take care of protecting you, the courts give you justice, the post office carries messages for you, the school teaches you. Everything is taken care of, even your children if you die; but with us the family must do all of that.

"Without the family we are nothing, and in the old days before the white people came the family was given first consideration by anyone who was about to do anything at all. That is why we got along. We had no courts, judges, schools, and other things you have, but we got along better than you.

"We had poison, but if we minded our own business and restrained ourselves we lived well. We were taught to leave people alone. We were taught to consider that other people had to live. We were taught that we would suffer from the devil, spirits, ghosts, or other people if we did not support one another. The family was everything, and no man ever forgot that. . . .

"That is why we were good people and why we were friends with the white people when they came. But the white people were different from us. They wanted to take the world for themselves. . . .

"With us he family was everything. Now it is nothing. We are getting like the white people, and it is bad for the old people. We had no old peoples' homes like you. The old people were important. They were wise. Your old people must be fools."

A Glittering Success

JAMES HALLEY

Post-Times Columnist

Whether or not the communist world favorably responds to President Nixon's peace initiative, it must be considered a glittering success. For it has changed American posture in both wars—the one in Southeast Asia and the war about the war within the United States.

Hanoi and the other communist capitals have long relied on American domestic pressures and world opinion to force our withdrawal from the Southeast Asian arena. As long as our domestic uproar continued there was little reason for Hanoi to negotiate. Our internal divisions gave hope to our opponents and made passage of time operate in favor of the Viet Cong and Hanoi.

But in recent months things have changed. With staged withdrawals of American troops, increasing Vietnamization, battlefield and political successes, our domestic war presents a new face. Ever so gradually, the American public has come to understand that the argument within the United States has altered. It is no longer about whether to leave Southeast Asia, but how to do it.

Strangely, it was the furor over the Hatfield-McGovern amendment that turned the tide. For by the time the last words were fired in that debate the general public fully perceived that we were wrangling about time schedules and the nature of Presidential power, and not about policy.

If one considers earlier redefinition of domestic dialogue to have dampened the fires of dissension, last week's Presidential announcement must be viewed as having doused most of the flames. His initiative served to switch responsibility for continuing conflict to the communist world and dramatically change the nature of the other war.

The five point plan is not without risk. A cease fire in South Vietnam would be unique. There are no front lines, and even though the situation is more stable than it was a year ago, the configuration of control is a crazy quilt of enclaves that change hourly depending upon location of forces and even the time of day. Those who found the fact finding process concerning Suez missile emplacements tedious and puzzling would be appalled by the enforcement problems in this kaleidoscopic situation.

A cease fire, if attained, would tend to establish the entire political settlement and negotiations might serve only as a meaningless appendage. In fact, cease fire could come about without negotiation. With the added weight of Presidential suggestion, it is possible that the war could gradually dry up without there ever being a verbalized understanding that this would be so. This, in turn, could lead to a partial cease fire, with conflict continuing in nations or provinces where we enjoy the least advantage.

Whatever the problems, the President is to be congratulated. His initiative is truly a risk for peace and one well worth taking.

Community Programs

"WHAT TYPE OF PROGRAMS DOES THE SAN BRUNO POLICE DEPARTMENT PRESENTLY HAVE TO HELP IMPROVE THE COMMUNITIES, UNDERSTANDING OF POLICE, AND HOW DO THEY WORK?"

Night Rider Program:

Commencing in June, 1969, a Night Rider Program was initiated, with four citizens, either male or female, over 16 years of age are chosen to participate in our Night Rider program on Friday nights. The riders are chosen from their applications which may be obtained at the police station.

The program consits of an initial briefing period for the riders during which time they are given a tour of the police department, explained department operations, shown certain safety precautions, and shown the communications room, files, and records.

Riders are assigned individually to ride with a patrolling beat officer on swing shift and graveyard shift to share in his risks, ideas, decisions, and be an on-the-spot observer of peace keeping operations. They remain with the patrolling officers for approximately 4½ hours, and at the end of the tour of duty the riders are returned to the office in order to attend a discussion with the coordinator.

Officer Bill and Block Parent Program:

Both programs are handled by the department's juvenile-school officer. The Officer Bill program consists of handing out coloring books with helpful hints for children on safety. The officer will take this action at the time he is speaking to the children in the classrooms of all of the schools within the city limits of San Bruno. Subjects discussed by the officer will include traffic and bicycle safety, child molestation, drug abuse, and several other timely topics. (Subject matter discussed depends on the age group in attendance.)

The Block Parent Program is a means of offering safe refuge to children going to or coming from school by participating members, who have been cleared by the police department, posting a sign in their home window denoting they are Block Parents.

To date approximately 200 people have been cleared for this program. There are 17 schools involved in these two particular programs for which an assigned officer acts as the liaison man.

Speaker's Bureau:

In an effort to put forth our message to the public relative to the problems in the community we encounter, a department speaker's bureau has been formed. Coordination and enactment of the speaker's bureau became effective on 1-May 70. This will provide members of the community and groups within the community with speakers who can offer experience in specific areas.

BETTER BUSINESS

By LORENE BEASLEY

Better Business Bureau

The terms Polyglas-Polyester as applied to tires has caused much confusion in the minds of consumers. Polyglas is a registered trade-mark of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company which identifies its tires employing a combination of Polyester cord and fiberglas belts, and may be used by Goodyear alone.

Polyester is a generic term for a group of synthetic polymers derived from petroleum. They are found in many syntnetic fabrics and in other applications as well as for tire cord material.

Underwriting Laboratories has advised NBBB that a dangerous CORN POPPER bearing an unauthorized UL seal is currently being marketed. Samples purchased in stores by UL inspectors proved to be hazardous with respect to both fire and shock hazard. The model is identified as Hudson's CP-1 and may bear the brand name Crown.

Shell Oil Corp. has been ordered to label its biggest selling household pesticide "No Pest Strip" with the cautionary statement, "Do not use in kitchens, restaurants or areas where food is served or prepared." The Agriculture Department acted after the Food and Drug Administration found that strips used in kitchens and food serving areas "contaminate food regardless of any need" as the strips continuousy emit a vapor of the fly-killing pesticide DDVP.

Existing stocks of the pesticide strips will be allowed to be sold with a label change. A Shell pokesman aid "We still feel that the strip is one of the most effective and safest way to protect home from the inconvenience and menace of flies and mosquitoes.

Avoid Color TV X-Ray Detectors. Both the FTC and the Public Health Service of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare recommend that viewers sit no closer than 6 to 8 feet from color TV sets. Exposure to the sides and rear of a set in operation shouid be avoided. Color sets should be serviced only by competent personnel.

Because of the publicity concerning X-Rays being emitted from color TV sets a number of do-it-yourself devices have appeared on the market. The U.S. Public Health Service has issued a warning that "the gadgets will not do the job."

Frosh Runners Eyeing Crown

As the cross country team roars on toward their season, there is talk of an NPL championship, especially with the Frosh and Frosh-Sooh teams.

The statistics of the first game which was at Hillsdale, saw Johnny Wilson, place first and Jim Liston, runner place third. These two runners usually run together and in almost all of the meets they have placed either first, second, or third.

The sophs also show promise with Bob Moynihan Jim Kalapodis and Bob Payne as the team's top the runners.

The average practice run is 13 miles a day. This prepares the team for the meets, which are approximately 2.5 miles. A practice the team runs such places as N.B.C. mountain, Crocker Hill, Musssel Rock and Twin Peaks.

To keep the team in top shape, they are asking for plenty of cheer eaders to keep spirit in the runners.

TOP DESIGN — 13-year-old Diane Plichick of 566 Higate Drive, Daly City, came up with this colorful birds-on-a-branch design to win top honors in the "Facelle Royale Paint-A-Placemat Contest" held at Westlake Foods and Skyline Plaza markets. Westlake Manager D. Scatena admires the placemat which earns Diane a weekend for two to Lake Tahoe via Holiday Airlines. The Westmoor High School sophomore submitted a total of six entries.

2,000 Tons of Refuse Will Move Daily

When San Franciscans fill their trash containers later this month at the rate of some 2,000 tons of refuse daily, they will be pioneering in a major effort towards improving the environmental conditions of the Bay Area.

Beginning October 21, and following elaborate opening day ceremonies attended by state, county, city and civic officials, the world's largest enclosed refuse transfer station will begin operation by transporting San Francisco refuse to a new landfill location in Mountain View, site of a planned 550-acre recreational area designed for the enjoyment of Bay Area residents.

The new location will replace the Brisbane dumping grounds at Sierra Point.

Located west of the Bayshore Freeway with access to the San Mateo-San Francisco County line, the new transfer station, which occupies a 12-acre site, will serve as a temporary storage area, completely enclosed, for the refuse delivered daily from conventional collection trucks serving the metropolitan area. As the refuse is collected, it immediately will be transferred to huge, specially designed sealed van-type truck-and-trailer units for the 35-mile trip to the ultimate destination in Mountain View.

Operation of the new transfer station is under the supervision of a newly formed corporation, Solid Waste Engineering and Transfer Systems, which is owned by Buran Equipment Company, Easley & Brassy Corporation Golden Gate Disposal Company, and Sunset Scavengers. Wayne D. Trewhitt, vice president of Easley & Brassy, has been elected general manager of the transfer station construction. Included on the Management Committee of the new corporation are the presidents of the four companies; namely, Louis Buran Sr.; W. D. Trewhitt of Easley & Brassy; John P. Moscone of Golden Gate; and Leonard Stefanelli of Sunset.

In discussing the over-all project, which represents an investment of approximately $2.5 million, Trewhitt said the transfer station, designed by the consulting firm of Wilsey & Ham, "represents the most up-to-date technology in the field of refuse transfer and will be flexible enough to accommodate new developments and innovations in refuse collection for years ahead."

"For example," he continued, "although the transfer of refuse to Mountain View to serve as the foundation for a modernistic recreational center is our immediate primary responsibility, we also are developing long-range plans for reclaiming portions of the refuse so that newspapers, glassware and metal containers may again be used in a practical manner.

"Our real challenging goal of the future is two-fold: First, to reclaim for practical purposes as much refuse as possible, and, simultaneously, to minimize the volume of unusable refuse which now requires extensive landfill sites for disposal. The fewer sites we have to acquire for refuse 'dumping grounds' will inversely result in more usable recreational or residential lands for our citizens."

Explaining the "benefits" of heretofore virtually wasted refuse from San Franciscans, Trewhitt said the first phase in Mountain View will be to fill in an area, now serving no practical purposes, for a nine-hole golf course. As soon as that is completed and enough fill is available, a unique 22-hole course has been designed by golf expert, Robert Trent Jones, whereby all par 3 holes will actually be "double holes." This will enable two golfers to tee-off simultaneously from the same hole, thus speeding up the time of play.

Other phases planned for the recreation site include a lake suitable for small boats plus additional smaller lakes capable of handling water run-off for irrigation purposes; tennis courts, outdoor bowling facilities, and in the distant future, a marina and boat harbor are anticiapted with an outlet to San Francisco Bay.

WHEN AIR CONDITIONING units were to be placed on the roof of the new $20-million Tanforan Park Shopping Center, the fastest method available was via helicopter. The Marvin D. Shafer Co., air-conditioning specialists at the huge San Bruno complex, engaged helicopters from Los Angeles to aid in the installation of 19 units — airlifted from parking lot to roof in 60 minutes. A job of similar magnitude would have taken over three working days if handled in conventional crane method, spokesmen pointed out.

S.F. Airport Bomb Threat, Man Escapes

A major bomb threat was touched off at the San Francisco International Airport Friday when a hippie-type man purchased a ticket to New York on the same flight as the president of Cambodia was scheduled and fled when he heard his luggage was about to be searched.

Although the man escaped and jumped into a car with two occupants, extra sheriff's deputies, airport police and firemen and secret service agents assigned to the airport as President Chan Houg passed through searched the man's luggage and found not a bomb but five pounds of marijuana.

Sheriff's Lt. N. J. LoSchiavo, head of a special security detail, reported the president arrived at 7:30 p.m. at the airport, about an hour after his scheduled arrival time from the Philippines. A state department limousine took him immediately off the jet and to the Hilton Inn, saving him the necessity of going through the airport.

The head of state was scheduled to take off on an American Airline flight with his entourage of about 16 at 11:10 p.m.

Around 10:30 p.m. the man came to the American Airline ticket counter in the main terminal and purchased a tocket to Kennedy International Airport in New York. The agent told him he would have to have his two pieces of luggage checked as a result of routine increased security measures and turned his back. As the agent turned back around, he noticed the man running from the terminal and immediately called in a possible bomb threat.

No Decisions in CSM Crisis

No decisions have yet been made by the board of trustees on how to meet the San Mateo Junior College District financial crisis, Chancellor Clifford G. Erickson reported.

"All we know for sure right now is that the September 15 election defeat of the district's tax and bond proposals will force a total enrollment cut of about 10,000 students next fall at San Mateo County's three junior colleges," Erickson said.

The questions of where that cut will be imposed, what criteria will be used for accepting or rejecting student applicants, and whether a new move will be launched for additional financing are still to be answered, he emphasized.

"It's important to put these points on the record at this time," the chancellor added, "because from the feedback we're getting, there may be a tendency for the public to construe as accomplished fact some of the remedial suggestions that have been offered to us by our teachers and students, and also by concerned citizens of the community."

Erickson said the trustees will meet again in public session to discuss the situation Wednesday at 8:15 p.m. at College of San Mateo.

Because of the election defeat, the district operational tax rate will revert next July to the statutory limit of 35 cents established in 1937. The district currently is operating at a 47-cent level and had sought at the polls an increase to 61 cents.

Charges Are Dismissed

Charges of visiting a place where narcotics were being used have been dismissed against South San Franciscans Kathleen, 19, and Paula, 18, Baumeister because of insufficient evidence.

The Baumeister girls were arrested back in May when South San Francisco police arrested 10 youths at the Holiday Inn on various charges including being in a place where narcotics were being used and minors in possession of alcohol.

Man Falls From Back of Truck

Richard Johnston, 27, of 405 Palmcrest Drive, Apt. 41, Daly City, was cirtically injured at 1:20 p.m. Sunday when he fell from the back of a pickup truck on Junipero Serra Freeway in Daly City.

The driver, Richard Glaser, 17-year-old Serramonte High School student, of 767 St. Francis Boulevard, Daly City, told Highway Patrolman Dawson Baker that he was helping Johnston move furniture.

A mattress blew off, the youth said, and they stopped and put it back on the truck. Johnston stayed in back to try to hold the load down. A few miles further south, Glaser told the officer, he heard Jonston shout and looked back and saw him and the mattress on the roadway.

Five Named Outstanding Young Men

Five Pacificans have been named for inclusion in the 1970 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America, according to the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce.

They are Police Capt. Melvin Nelson, former Policeman Otto Saltenberger, Kenneth Addleman, Aubrey M. Lumley III and Kenneth G. Matias.

Nominated earlier this year, they were chosen for the publication on the basis of their achievements, the chamber explained.

It was pointed out that annually over 5,000 men between the ages of 21 and 35 are nominated for the awards publication by Jaycee chapters, civic organizations, college alumni associations and military commandants.

Criteria for selection includes a man's service to others, professional excellence, business advancements, charitable activities and civic and professional recognition.

Buy Property

South San Francisco councilmen have authorized appropriation of $14,000 for acquisition of approximately 8,000 square feet of Bodinson Manufacturing Company property in connection with widening of South Airport Boulevard.

Stranded Rigs Block Road

Cabrillo Highway was closed completely for hours on Monday when two big truck-trailer rigs lost traction on a superslick stretch of treacherous Devil's Slide.

Stalled side by side on the two-lane highway were a truck and gondola trailer loaded with dry cement and a truck pulling a flat-bed trailer.

Tow trucks were at the scene but were reported having no success in moving the stranded rigs, spinning their own wheels on the slippery roadway. A Division of Highways crew was dispatched with a load of sand to help the trucks get traction.

Traffic was being rerouted off the highway at Pacifica and Half Moon Bay.

Deputy Sheriff Italo Ferrari said the blockage occurred midway between Montara and Pacifica at the steepest part of Devil's Slide. It is the same spot, he said, where a large portion of the roadway fell into the ocean two years ago and closed the road for some time.

Ferrari blamed the slickness of the roadway on a combination of road oil and heavy early morning fog.

The first truck-trailer got stuck at 5:30 a.m. in the northbound lane. Ferrari reported the road completely blocked an hour later. He explained that the second rig had gone into the southbound lane to pass the stalled truck and trailer and met the same fate as the first.

The California Highway Patrol reported at 9:30 a.m. that the highway remained blocked.

FOG SPLITS THE CITY—Like a rising river, early morning fog splits Daly City into two parts. In foreground is the older section of Daly City. In rear is booming new area of Westlake. The two sections are wider apart psychologically than geographically. Dramatic morning photo was taken by Post photographer Bob Burton.

Man Trapped In Auto's Windshield

A Pacifica man was trapped with his head through the windshield of the car he was riding in last week when it was involved in a three-car rear-ender on El Camino Real at Chapin Lane in Burlingame.

Police said Robert Watson, 175 Lakeside Avenue, was freed from the windshield by firemen who smashed out the remaining glass with axes.

Also injured in the crash was Caswell Tindol, 24, same address, who was driving the car Watson was riding in, according to police.

Both were taken to Peninsula Hospital, where Tindol was released after emergency room care.

Watson was admitted with head injuries and facial lacerations, and is reportedly recovering satisfactorily this morning.

Police say the accident occurced at about 9:15 p.m., in the northbound lanes of El Camino Real.

Cars involved were driven by: Thomas P. Marriscolo, 23, 2081 Whitman Way, San Bruno, driving a 1969 station wagon, and Maynard F. Wolfe, 34, 726 Third Avenue, San Mateo.

County's Jobless Growing

By VERNON KROGH

A dismal picture of increasing unemployment, of 6500 households receiving food stamps for survival, and of growing welfare problems was portrayed at last week's meeting of the county's Economic Opportunity Commission in Redwood City.

"There isn't a bright spot in this spreading gloom of unemployment, Milt Shields, director of the San Mateo INFO Center, told the commission. "It was gathering in August and surfacing in September."

Shields said 15,000 families, totaling 21,000 men and women in the county, are on welfare. The 17-to-25-year-old black age group had no trouble finding employment last year, he said. Now they are competing with Ph. D's who have lost their jobs.

"Even San Mateo, with its concentration of service businesses and hospitals, is in trouble," Shields reported. "Our number one industry — building — never came out in the Spring. The only bright spot is a $60 million expansion program at the San Francisco airport."

Louis Clarida, acting director of an Emergency Food and Medical Program which began only this week, said a grant for the program is not enough to feed the people of San Mateo County.

"We are trying to assess needs," Clarida said. "There is dissatisfaction of people receiving food stamps. There are many weaknesses in the program. Many people do not even know they can buy food stamps."

Clarida stated that 6500 households in the county are on public assistance.

"We are trying people who are not fed," he said.

The director said $4.2 million federal grant nation-wide, provides only $2 per person for food "and this is not enough."

San Mateo County has an emergency food grant of about $75,000, according to Clarida.

Mayor Robert H. Bury of Redwood City, a commission member, suggested local legislators be contacted, but Edward R. Becks, executive director of the commission, replied, "We are going to let them know there's bigger things here than just unemployment. We are trying to develop a well-defined description of needs. What is happening here in the county is happening all over the country."

Becks said local communities must be "sensitized" to what is going on.

"It's alarming," Commissioner Frank N. Ganino of San Mateo agreed.

Various centers to help the poor about the county submitted lists of their priority needs to the commission. They were as follows:

PROBE Community Center, Redwood City: housing, employment, education, health, legal advice and representation, other related services.

South San Francisco: Employment, health and welfare, translation and interpretation, transportation, community organization and development.

San Mateo: Employment, welfare, housing, hunger, legal aid, education, health.

Daly City: Community organization and development, employment, health and welfare, housing, transportation, education.

East Palo Alto: Employment, community and economic development, housing, welfare, health.

New Airline Fare Plan

Frequent travelers, and senior citizens, are the beneficiaries of innovations in airline fares introduced this week by two airlines at San Francisco International Airport.

Air California, which flies between here and Orange County, offered the nation's first "senior citizens" fare reductions, and a locally-based commuter airline, Golden Pacific, began the first "commute book" ticket sales.

Air California's ticket prices were cut one-third for people 55 years of age or older, traveling in groups of 10.

Starting Monday, Golden Pacific offered a flat 10 per cent off, on purchases of ten one-way tickets, over any given route. The tickets must be used within six months, and purchased at one time.

The "commute book" plan applies to lights between San Francisco International Airport and Santa Rosa, Ukiah, Napa, Concord, Stockton, Modesto, and Merced.

At the same time, the airline introduced an "excursion fare," which works opposite to normal airline excursion fares.

Usually, airline excursion fares only apply when a traveler stays seven or more days at his destination, before returning.

Under the new GPA plan, excursion fares, with reductions up to 32 per cent, the airline says, will apply to all round-trip flights originating in San Francisco International and its more-distant landing points: Eureka, Sacramento, San Jose, Fresno, Visalia, Lake Tahoe, and Sacramento.

Call Bids For Project

South San Francisco councilmen have authorized a call for bids on a beautification project for entrance to the city at Airport Boulevard, between Randolph and Butler Avenues.

They purposely withheld the project's estimated cost in an effort to determine whether the estimated figure has anything to do with actual bids.
